COURT OF QUARTER SESSIONS.

What Has Been Done in Centre's Hall of Justice.

The regular term of Quarter Sessions court convened Monday morning at 9.30 o'clock with all the Judges present. The list of county constables was called and their returns taken. The list of jurors was then called and a number of absentees noted. This led the Court to instruct the Sheriff to have the absent jurors in court by Tuesday morning.

The grand jurors was called, and Dr. John F. Harter appointed foreman. They were then sworn in and given the usual instructions by the Court after which they retired to their room to consider the numerous bills that will be presented to them during the week by Disrtict Attorney Singer.

This was on January 3rd, about 9.30 a. m.; Harry came home at dinner time and he threw stones at the house; led Mrs. C. out of the stable by the arm; she was in the stable after my hired girl, Rhoda Gunsallus; Mrs. C. started the trouble.

Harry Cathcart sworn. Was at home from 12 to 1 o'clock; did not throw any stones until evening when Hampton's children wanted to whip me. Defense rests.

The summing up was brief as was also the Court's charge. The jury was out but a little while when they returned a verdict of "Guilty of assault and malicious mischief." They were sentenced to pay a fine of $100, costs of prosecution, and give bail in the sum of $300 to keep the peace for one year.

At this juncture the three cases against the Central Railroad of Pennsylvania were continued.

The next case taken up was that of the Commonwealth vs. John Watson of Union township, for larceny and malicious mischief. The prosecutor was William Hosband. The latter claimed, and proved, that on the 23rd day of December, 1893, the defendant, John Watson, deliberately shot, killed and carried off two large white turkeys belonging to him (Hosband) after having been told that they were tame turkeys and who they belonged to. Hosband valued the turkeys at $2.00

The defense put forth the claim that he did not know the turkeys were tame ones; thought they were wild turkeys as some had been seen there only a few days before. The case was argued, the court delivered its charge, the jury retired and after a brief deliberation returned a verdict of "Guilty," and divided the costs betweeen the prosecutor and defendant.

The next case called was that of Commonwealth vs. Carl Voilto, Alias Furgue Stregers, assault and battery, P. F. Garbrick, prosecutor. Mr. Garbrick sworn. Live in Bellefonte; left home on January 1 at 7 o'clock p. m., with my wife; went to Coleville past the furnace grounds; as we got near the reservoir saw about fifteen Hungarians coming; one took hold of me and hit me on the breast and again on the chin; I knocked him down; he said he was the big boarding boss and I was a son of a ——; they followed me some distance; my wife was not assaulted that I know of; never had any trouble with them before; I was among these men about twenty minutes. Mrs. Lyda Garbrick corroborated the testimony of her husband in every detail, after which court adjourned till 9 o'clock next morning.

On the convening of court the case of Com. vs. Carl Voilto was resumed. The defendant sworn. Live in Bellefonte; was in house No. 2; was not doing anything when someone threw a rock through the window; went outside the house but did not see anyone; did not strike anyone nor was I struck; never saw Garbrich before this. On cross-examination defendant admitted being a little drunk and that he was in a fight; that he was hit.

The testimony of Ella, the defendant's wife was similar to above only that she acknowledged hearing shooting and said she gave her husband a revolver. The occasion was a child christening and the men had been drinking beer. Frank was arrested in depot at Tyrone, on his way to Bellefonte. This closed the case which was submitted to the jury on the charge of the court. The Hun was found guilty and sentenced to pay a fine of $50, thirty days in jail, costs of prosecution and to stand committed until the sentence was complied with.

Commonwealth vs. John Snyder, for larceny, was the next case taken up. This is a case from Gregg township, in which the defendant is charged with stealing turkeys from Luther Musser. The prosecutor sworn. Live at Penn Hall. Last year I raised 46 turkeys; had 43 turkeys on the night of December 11, 1893; I shut them up that night and retired at 9 o'clock; in the morning ten turkeys were missing; they were the bronze turkey and very large; I found tracks from the coop to the pike and along the pike toward Millheim; I know John Snyder, he lives on the pike; I found feathers along the road, went to Jesse Snyders; he is John's father; Jesse Snyder asked me if turkey thieves had been at my place last night; I said there had; I found a turkey there and Mr. Snyder said I might take it as it was not his; John said he took nine turkeys out to Lucian Snyders on December 11 and they were shipped from Coburn by a brother of Lucian's.

William Mark testified to having seen John Snyder and his cousin in Penn Hall on December 11 between 8 and 9 o'clock at night.

George Stover, express agent at Coburn, testified to having shipped for Lucian Snyder 127 pounds of turkeys.

'Squire Herring testified to having issued the warrant for the arrest of John Snyder and that two hearings had been held before him, one on December 23 and one on Jrnuary 3. At both hearings John Snyder swore that he had bought the turkeys from his father and taken them to L. G. Snyder, who is a huckster, to ship.

Jesse Snyder sworn. Am the father of the defendant. Saw Luther Musser on December 12, 1893; a man came to my house, I heard the dogs bark, got up and saw a man crawling along the fence; my turkeys were roosting on the fence; they flew and I called to the man and asked him "what in h—l he was doing there?" A buck wagon was standing in the road, the man got into it and drove away. I sold my son nine turkeys and he took them away that night. This closed the examination and the jury returned a verdict of "not guilty."

The next case called was that of the Commonwealth vs. John Iddings, malicious mischief. L. C. Bullock, of Milesburg, the prosecutor, testified that on the night of April 6th, Iddings came to his place and wanted a rig. When he refused to give it to him Iddings, who was drunk, wanted to fight and swore he could lick anybody in the town. He then went into Bullock's stable and upset the stove throwing the fire over the floor. Bullock called for help and the fire was put out and Iddings was arrested. Bullock's evidence was corroborated by the testimony of John Johnson, William Dike and A. M. Butler, the policeman who made the arrest.

In his own defense Iddings testified that he was at Bullock's stable and wanted a man and a rig to drive him home. He denied every thing else. This closed the evidence and court adjourned until 2 o'clock in the afternoon.

At this juncture court adjourned until 9 o'clock Wednesday morning.

WEDNESDAY MORNING SESSION.

On the convening of court the jury in the case of the commonwealth vs. Al. S. Garman returned a verdict of "not guilty."

The hearing of the evidence in the case of the commonwealth vs. John I. Walker was then continued.

Sheriff Ishler sworn. I sent Foulk to Walker's house because he had gum shoes on; the man inside ordered us away; On being told we were officers and who we were after the man said "if you do not go away I will shoot, and he did shoot. He then opened the door and ran; we caught him and asked him why he shot at us and he replied "he didn't know. Mrs. Walker and a child were in the house. The above testimony was corroberated by Policeman William Garis. Substantiating testimony of the shooting was also given by Philip Walker, John and Wash Tipton. Commonwealth rests.

In his own defense John Walker testified. I live about two and one-half miles from Mt. Eagle, in a small house, with two rooms down stairs and one room up. I was at home on November 24th, 1893, with my wife and child; we went to bed about ten o'clock; I heard someone walking; looking out of the window I saw someone standing near the door; when I asked who was there the only answer I got was "me;" they did not say who. I was frightened and did not know what I did; I do not know anything that happened after I shot. I was arrested on Thursday or Friday last. I borrowed the revolver from John Tipton for my wife and another lady; did not know Watkins and Meese had escaped and were in that neighborhood at that time. These men came between 9.30 and ten o'clock; did not know it was the sheriff, and did not tell anyone I wished I had crippled them. The door was offered in evidence.

Harvey Watkins testified to taking off the door and bringing it to Bellefonte.

Mary Walker, wife of the defendant, corroborated the testimony of her husband.

Joshua Fouik re-called and shown the door but failed to recognize it.

Walker re-called and testified that the door was the right one. Sheriff Ishler failed to recognize the door. This concluded the evidence and, after the usual pleas, charge of the court and brief deliberation, the jury returned a verdict of "not guilty."

The next case taken up was that of Commonwealth against John Riner, Daniel Beightol, Charles Lynn, Morris and Mahew Fitzgerald, larceny. The prosecutor is Christian Sharer, of Taylor township, and the indictment was for turkey stealing, the third turkey case tried at this court.

The prosecutor, on being sworn, testified that he lives near Sandy Ridge. On the night of December 26th he was awakened by a turkey alighting on the roof. On looking out he saw a man in a tree with a turkey in his hand. Several other men were in the road near a wagon—which had a mule and a horse hitched to it. The team belonged to a man at Sandy Ridge. On going out the men all got into the wagon, with the turkeys and drove off. I saw tracks from the tree to my stable and turkey feathers on the road. I took a near cut and came out ahead of them to the house of John Rider. The men soon came up and I saw them take the turkeys out of the wagon and into the house but was ordered away. Before I went a man came out and asked me who I was and what I wanted. I told him I was the man they stole the turkeys from. They took two from me, worth about three dollars. One of the men said he did not deny having taken the turkeys and another one said he was sorry it had occurred and would like to get the matter fixed up. The above testimony was corroborated as far as possible by E. J. and Calvin Sharer, the prosecutor's sons, and by Henry Woodle, when court adjourned until 1.30 in the afternoon.

NEW MONTE CARLO.

Roby, Ind., the Refuge of the Chicago Sports.

CHICAGO, Jan. 23.—Roby, Ind., has again sprung into prominence. That little station, just over the Indiana line east of South Chicago, has become a Monte Carlo. The sports of Chicago, who used to go down there to risk their shekels on horse races and witness slugging matches, are now drawn thither by the establishment of one of the biggest gambling layouts in America.

It is said that 10,000 Chicagoans visit Roby every day for the purpose of "getting action" for their surplus cash. Two weeks ago Mayor Hopkins ordered all the gambling houses in the city closed and pleadings, entreaties and "pulls" have not been able to change the mayor's determination. The Roby gambling house was opened last week. The big covered amphi theatre has been converted into one of the greatest gambling resorts in the country, and suburban traffic on the Michigan Central, Lake Shore and Pennsylvania lines has swollen to almost world's fair proportions.

Ninety men are employed at the establishment. These 90 men are at work from morning till night and from night till morning. There are pool rooms and "stock exchanges" and tickers and "clocks" of the most approved pattern for financiers. Then there is everything from a wheel of fortune to a faro layout, as well as cozy corners where the votaries of draw and stud poker may while away their time and their salaries. Bar and restaurant are not wanting to cheer the patrons.

SOBRIETY AND LONGEVITY.

The well-known truism of man's living his allotted days is susceptible of various interpretations. Let him die at what ever age he may, we must coincide the proverb has had its fulfillment. But, on the other hand, we must not lose sight of the fact that he had a good deal to do with the matter himself and, therefore, his special allotment is something within [illegible] a very important extent. Examples of this kind are by no means rare, but one has recently come to light which exemplifies the proposit on so clearly that it seems to deserve special mention.

Fifty years ago five young men, raised among the granite hills of New Hampshire, well acquainted with each other, concluded to form themselves into a club for social, but rational enjoyment. They agreed to attend each other's weddings and funerals, meet on the last day of every year to enjoy a supper, taking turns according to age as host, engage in no games of chance, and, lastly, to abstain from the use of intoxicating liquors. The only excuse for absence at the annual banquet was sickness or distance.

This remarkable club met to celebrate their last supper on the last day of 1893, in the city of Concord, New Hampshire, all the members being present, although some came from Washington and New York. The members are all still in the enjoyment of excellent health; the wives of four of them were also at the meeting. Only one death has occurred in the immediate families of the club. As all are now old men, they concluded to bring the annual meetings to a close with the fiftieth one, preferring that their last banquet should be held while all the members were still in the flesh and when there were no vacant chairs to look upon.

The record this club has made is, so far as we know, unique in the history of such associations. It may be taken for granted that these five clubmen had the hardy constitutions New England gives to her sons to begin with. But we may further infer from their courageous resolves that they were men who knew how to take care of themselves, who knew the value of leading careful, sober lives, as conducive to longevity. The drinker and gamester is a man who too often gives his nights to other things than sleep and in that way contributes to cutting short his career. These men undoubtedly led quiet orderly lives and to a large degree made possible their fifty annual banquets.

TRAIN ROBBERS ARRESTED.

VINITA, I. T., January 23.—Officers located the train robbing gang with Rogers as its captain, which has been having its headquarters in this portion of the country for months at the home of Rogers, on Big Creek, twenty miles from here, between 3 and 4 o'clock this morning and pounced down upon them while they were asleep in the house. Rogers and "Dynamite Jack" were captured unhurt. "Dynamite's" brother Kiowa, was killed and Will Brown was so seriously wounded that his death is expected. No officers were hurt. It was presumed to be the band which successfully held up the Kansas and Arkansas Valley train at Seminole a short time ago, and two days before made an unsuccessful attempt on the Missouri, Kansas and Texas train at Kelso.

THAT HARMAN CHILD.

On Tuesday morning a number of the grand jurors visited the Bellefonte poor house to see for themselves the condition of the Harman child. Tuesday afternoon the grand jury made a special report to the Court on the condition in which the boy was found, which was expressed as being one of great neglect, the boy being found in bed naked, and lying in filth. The report was severe in condemnation of the anthorities who would allow such a condition to prevail. Judge Furst at once called for the poor overseers of Bellefonte and Spring township and William Brooks, of the latter place, was the only one present. The court gave him the report and instructed him to at once go to the overseers of Bellefonte and that they immediately repair to the poor house and see that the boy's condition was made as comfortable as possible; and also, that he be given the proper care and attention as his case demands. This they ought to do for the sake of humanity. Mr. Brooks at once gave the matter attention and in the evening the entire grand jury visited the poor house and then found the boy fixed as comfortably as possible under the circumstances.

Mr. Garbrick complained very much that he should have been so severely criticised to the Court, averring that the grand jurors who were there in the morning had made their visit before he had had time to attend to the boy. This, really seems but a lame excuse; for every one knows—at least every father and mother does—that they would not put a child of their own, who was half as bad as the reported condition of this boy, to bed without any night clothes, and that they would never allow any filth to accumulate. But Mr. Garbrick may not be wholly to blame; and it is evident that he is not. The poor overseers should have provided for the proper comforts and the necessary attendance on the boy until he should improve to such a condition when he could wait on himself. On them should rest the severest condemnation of all. It is now to be hoped that the boy will be given the care and attention that his case demands and that will place all parties above criticism.

AS TO RAILROAD INVESTMENTS.

Mr. C. P. Huntington says of railroad building in Texas that it will never be resumed in that State until the people or their legislative representatives exhibit a greater friendliness to railroad interests than they have been doing for some time past and until money can be more easily obtained on miscellaneous securities than it can at present.

Mr. Huntington probably refers to Texas especially because of his properties there, but what he says will doubtless apply to some other States. The two essential conditions to railroad construction at present are a disposition on the part of the people to encourage such investments and greater ease in the money market, but be money ever so plentiful and easy to get, capital will be slow to venture in directions where it is certain to be met and hampered by populistic antagonism or legislative restrictions, as is too frequently the case in some sections of the West.

It is probable that the tightness of money will be relaxed, however, long before public sentiment undergoes a wholesome change in the localities referred to, and the outlook for any speedy revival in railroad building is, therefore, not encouraging.

It may be well enough to have it so. The experience of the past year, as shown in the long list of railroad receiverships, indicates the business has been more or less overdone, and that it is not wholly the fault of the people that so many roads have been driven to the wall. Investments will hereafter be made much more cautiously, taking into view not only the disposition of various State Legislatures to embarass the railroad companies in the management of their own property, but traffic conditions and possibilities generally concerning which in many cases there has been too little regard.

The country should have all the railroads it really needs, and these it will have in time. Whether the railroads will ever be permitted to have a controlling voice in their management, as against unfriendly legislation, is not so certain.

2,000 WENT TO WORK.

HARRISBURG, Jan. 23—Nearly 2,000 men went to work at the Pennsylvania Steel works to-day, and there is great rejoicing at Steelton. Stacks that have been smokeless since the first of the year are sending their black clouds skyward, and the hum of machinery is sweet music to the ears of the army of workmen. Orders now in will keep the big plant running at least ten days.

EQUAL TO THE WILD WEST.

Five Masked Burglars Raid a Pennsylvania Postoffice.

DANVILLE, PA., Jan. 18.—Five masked bandits made a raid on the postoffice at an early hour this morning. A policeman saw a man crouching in the doorway and drew a revolver, but before he could fire the stranger slipped around a corner.

The policeman rushed to the homes of Officers Dave Rissel and John Van Gilger and gave the alarm. In a few minutes the three men ran to the post office, in time to meet the mysterious stranger emerging from the door, followed by a companion. He blew a loud, piercing whistle, and commenced firing at the police, who dodged behind the lamp posts and returned the fire.

Ten shots were exchanged, when the rob bers were reinforced by three more men. Everyone was well armed, and a continuous round of firing commenced. The bandits formed a square and hugged the stone steps leading to the massive building, where they were able to escape the policemen's bullets.

Numerous citizens appeared, armed with weapons of every description. The firing became so warm that the robbers retreated to the river bank. They discharged three volleys at the excited townsmen and ran eastward, each side exchanging shots. Van Gilger's who led the pursuers, suddenly threw up his hands, and fell shot through the lungs. About the same time two of the robbers fell. Their comrades picked them up, and during a cessation the pursuers managed to reach the Susquehanna river.

A rowboat was secured and the three out laws, after laying the wounded companions in the bottom of the boat, commenced sculling in the direction of the Northumberland side.

The pursuers, now a force of 100 infuriated men, secured as many boats as possible and an exciting chase commenced, revolvers and rifles cracking at every turn but no one was hit.

Owing to their good start the outlaws succeeded in reaching the opposite side before the foremost boat containing the police was half way across, and when the pursuers touched land the daring men were in the mountains, which are being scoured on all sides by the Sheriff's posse. It is thought that the bandits will seek a cave in order to hide from their pursuers.

In the event of their being surprised an other desperate battle will occur. The Sheriff declares he will bring back the slayers of Van Gilger dead or alive.

A SAD STORY.

HUNTINGDON, Pa., January 17.—Word comes from Dudley, this county, for an awful affliction that has been wrought by death. In December last sickness entered the home of one of the happiest families in that mining town and on Christmas Day Mrs. Catharine Sullivan, wife of Patrick Sullivan, died aged 32 years. Beside her husband she left four small children, the oldest being only 8 years of age and the youngest a babe only 5 days old. At the time of her death her husband was battling with a dangerous attack of pneumonia and on the 5th inst., he, too, died, aged also 32 years.

The saddest part of these calamities seems to be what followed their recurrence. Jeremiah Sullivan, Jr., a brother of the deceased Patrick was almost hourly in attendance upon his brother during the latter's critical illness, and by the time of Patrick's death was almost broken down from physical exhaustion and nervous excitement. The shock occasioned by the death was too much for him to withstand and he began immediately to show signs of mental derangement. His condition grew more serious and now he is regarded as being hopelessly insane. Application has been made to the court for Jeremiah's commission to a lunatic asylum.

GOT SIX MONTHS IN JAIL.

EBENSBURG, Pa., January 17.—Edwin H. Jackson who pleaded guilty to falsifying the books of the Cambria Iron company has been sentenced to six months in jail and to pay a fine of $100. The comparative lightness of the sentence was the result of a petition presented to the court by counsel for both sides and by many prominent citizens of Johnstown requesting that he be not severely punished. Relatives of Mr. Jackson here now say that they will take immediate steps toward seeing that Jackson's accomplices are brought to justice.

KILLED THREE MEN.

SCRANTON, Pa., January 17.—Frand Ferrari, the Italian brigand who shot three people last night while trying to assassinate Contractor Timothy Burke, confessed while in his cell to-day that he killed three men in Italy and that he came to America for that reason.

He is a desperado of the worst type. At the hearing before Alderman Wright to-day he denied having done the shooting, but several witnesses were prodnced who positively identified him. He was committed to the county jail without bail.

CREATED GREAT EXCITEMENT.

HAZLETON, Pa., January 17.—Daniel McMullen, aged 8 years, of Pleasant Hill, was killed to-night while standing before the door of his home. His father, who keeps a hotel at that place, had ejected a crowd of boisterous Poles and Hunz from the saloon a short time previous. They went but a short distance from the premises when a fight between themeslvesarose. During the melee some one threw a stone. The missile missed the mark intended and struck young McMullen in the head. The boy died an hour later. There is no clue to the murderer and the case has created great exitement.

ABOUT PRINTERS' INK.

This is the day of printers's ink, and the prizes are for those who use it. Your traditions and prejudices may be to the contrary, but the world dosen't care a fig for them. The man who sits and waits for his trade in these days gets left. Don't advertise, don't quote your price lists, don't see that your city or your business is represented in your patronizing territory, and don't stand up manfully alongside of those who are fighting for your rights and interests, and there can be but one result—shrivelingup. Good salesmen, first class articles, gilt edged credit are not enough. They are excellent, necessary—but not enough. Printers' ink beats them in the long run. Uncle Sam's mails go every day, carrying their freight of special offers, new crops, long credits cash discounts, job lots and lovers' tales from everywhere. And in the end your trade is seduced. It's the world old story of the honeyed tongue and the open ear. In the fierce competition of these days old habits and associations simply cannot stand the pressure. The trade is for the man who uses printers' ink.

PAINFUL ACCIDENT.

Mr. John Burns, of Poe Mills, men with an accident on last Friday that is likely to cause him a great deal of trouble and will confine him to the house for at least four weeks. Mr. Burns works on Maurer's lumber job and he and several other men were engaged in skidding logs. He was in the act of moving a heavy log when his cant hook slipped ofl, the iron striking him with full force on his left knee. The cap was split and some of the main sinews severed. When the extent of his injuries was realized it was thought advisable to bringhim up to town, and procure immediate medical aid. He is lying at the home of his father-in-law, Mr. John Schleiffer, on North street, and in spite of his misfortune, is in good spirits, and ready to brave the painful operations his physicians may be obliged to subject him to. We sincerely hope to see John out again before long, hale and hearty, and able to stand on both legs.—Millheim Journal.

CHAPLAIN MC'CABE MAY COME.

The Methodist congregation in this place are using their best endeavors to induce Chaplain C. C. McCabe to come to Bellefonte and hold a series of revival meetings. Mr. McCabe has consented to come, and the only thing yet in the way is the arrangement of a suitable date. Our people desire to have him come some time during February, prior to the session of Conference in Harrisburg, while Mr. McCabe, does not know whether it will be possible to come at that time or not. He can come, however, after conference has held its session, which would be in the latter part of March, if this will suit all around. The probability is that Mr. McCabe will come to Bellefonte either before or after conference, and we are certain if he does, that a glorious revival will be the reward of his work here. By all means have him come one time or the other.

STATE LEAGUE MATTERS.

SCRANTON, Pa., Jan. 17.—The State League of Base Ball Clubs continued its session here this morning. The salary limit was increased from $750 to $1,000, as it is deemed necessary to give greater strength to the clubs for the approaching season. Nyce, the Allentown player who assaulted an umpire last season, was reinstated, a proper apology having been made. Hodson, Wetzel and Walters, contract jumpers, were also reinstated. At 3.30 o'clock the magnates left for Wilkesbarre to do missionary work there.

THOSE ON THE TOWN.

Special telegrams to Bradstreet received Thursday from regular correspondents and others at 119 cities throughout the country show that there are wage earners in enforced idleness at the present time numbering more than 801,000 and that are dependent for support upon these idle employes of industries and other establishments more than 1,956,000 persons. In Pennsylvania the number of unemployed is given as 151,500 upon whom 449,200 persons are dependent.

DEATH OF A BRIDE.

We again have a painful duty to perform in chronicling the death of Mrs. Edward Bechdol, of Hublersburg, who died at her home in that place on Tuesday morning from an attack of the grip, after a very brief illness. Mrs. Bechdol was formerly Miss Maggie Decker, and it is but five short weeks since she was united in marriage with the man of her choice.

A LOSS TO ATTORNEYS.

No More Referee Fees Under the New Equity Rules.

The new equity rules promulgated by the supreme court, which take effect March 1, contain radical changes. The master in chancery is abolished, and unless the parties to a suit in equity agree on a referee the judges of the common pleas court are requested to hear the cases and decide them. Either side can have the questions of fact referred to a jury, but the judge is not bound by the jury's finding. When a hearing in an equity case is started it must go on continuously the same as a case before a jury, until it is finished, unles good cause can be shown for an adjournment. The party asking the adjournment must pay the cost of it.

When a case is referred to a referee his compensation during his actual service shall be paid at a per diem rate arrived at by dividing the amount of the annual salary received by a common pleas judge by 300. For a portion of a day the referee is to be paid $5. His powers are similar to those now invested in a master in chancery.

The new rules are intended to do away with the delay which equity suits are now subject to and to lessen the cost to litigants. The fees allowed masters now are very high. Law stenographers will suffer under the new rules, for there will be few fat pickings for them in equity cases as at present, but the court stenographers will be benefited if they are paid the usual fees for their services, for they will get the most of the equity work. The work of the county judges will be greatly increased by the new rules.

THE EYE AND THE TELESCOPE.

The following careful statement by Prof. E. S. Holden on the power of the eye and the telescope, as they are contrasted in actual experience, is of special and permanent interest:

If the brigtness of a star seen with the eye alone is one, with a 2-inch telescope it is 100 times as bright; with a 4-inch telescope it is 400 times as bright; 8-inch telescope it is 1,600 times as bright; 17-inch telescope it is 6,400 times as bright; 32-inch telescope it is 25,600 times as bright; 36-inch telescope it is 32,400 times as bright. That is, stars can be seen with the 36-inch telescope which are 30,000 times fainter than the faintest stars visible to the naked eye.

While the magnifying power which can be successfully used on a 5-inch telescope is not above 400, the 36-inch telescope will permit a magnifying power of more than 2,000 diameters on suitable objects, stars, for example. This power cannot be used on the moon and planets with real advantage for many reasons, but probably a power of 1,000 or 1,500 will be the maximum. The moon will thus appear under the same conditions as if it were to be viewed by the naked eye at a distance of, say, 200 miles.

This is the same as saying that objects about 300 feet square can be recognized, so that no village or great canal or even large edifices can be built on the moon without our knowledge.

Highly organized life on the moon will make itself known in this indirect way if it exists. If one were looking at the earth under the same conditions, the great works of hydraulic mining or the great operations of Dakota farms or California ranges would be obvious.—[Washington's Magazine.

IT DOES GOOD.

Editors of Daily News and Bellefonte Republican:

DEAR SIR:—The ad. we placed in your valuable papers shows what good it does to advertise. We have long since known that if one has anything to sell or buy the people must be made known of the fact, and there is no medium that so effectually reaches the people as a good local paper. Our ad. for apples has brought us many responses. We heartily endorse your papers.

Very respectfully,

HAUPT & SON.

The above endorsement comes to us unsolicited and therefore truthfully shows what good advertising mediums the DAILY NEWS and Bellefonte Republican are. If you have never tried them, do so now, and be benefited thereby.

DU BOIS SCHOOL BOARD.

The supreme court has reversed ex-Judge Kreb's decree, which ousted the Du Bois school board elected by wards. The Courier says the new board, or the directors elected by concurrent vote, will step down and out, and at last the much discussed and much agitated school board question has been finally settled. The original board will resume business and the people will heareafter elect directors the same as before the juggling began about two years ago. The concurrent board began business last June and no one will say that they have not attended to their official duties faithfully and well.

LANDLORD REDUCED RENTS.

Renovo News: Stephen Ryder, appreciating the difficulties which many of the people of Renovo have to contend with on account of the short times of work in the railroad shops and the lack of money with which to meet expenses, has generously relieved the tenants of his houses from considerable part of their monthly burden by reducing his rents 25 per cent. He rents six houses and this move was one that was most acceptable to the tenants, redounds to the credit of the liberal hearted gentleman who thus assists them at a time when aid is so greatly needed. The above action of Renovo landlords is worthy of emulation by Bellefonte house owners.

PURE AIR A PREVENTIVE OF COLDS.

A few years ago I read an article in the Popular Science Monthly which seemed to prove the value of pure air as a preventive of "colds." The theory suggested was that colds may be caused by the loss of a certain equilibrium between the oxygen in the lungs and tue carbon in the blood. It is true that this may follow over eating, and so overcharging the blood with food elements; but more frequently, it was thought, the lack of pure air.

By acting upon this theory almost incredible results were said to have been reached. The writer of the article alluded to claimed that he had easily brought himself into a condition in which it seemed impossible to take cold. He could sit in thin clothing in winter at an open window. The ordinary causes of colds, such as wet feet, overheating and the like, seemed powerless to produce their usual results.

With these statements in mind, I remembered some curious facts of my own experience in the army, in 1862 and 1863. I was not strong, and indeed was hardly fit to be in the army at all. And when I found myself exposed all day long to a steady rain, and at night to the out door air, with no fire, no change of clothing, no shelter but a canvas covering open at both ends, through which the rain dripped constantly, it seemed certain that the "death o' cold" so often predicted must surely follow. Why it did not follow was more of a mystery then, however, than it is now. For I was in a place where the art of man no longer excluded one of the prime principles of health. I breathed pure air because I could not help it. During the service of fifteen months, with severe exposures but fresh air constantly, the same immunity from colds prevailed. I remembered, too, that when I came home from the army the blessing and the curse—at least one of the curses of civil life—came back together. I had comfortable rooms to eat, breathe and sleep in, on the one hand, but very soon colds, sore throats and related troubles on the other. This was the second count in the argument for pure air.—[J. W. QUINBY, in Popular Science Monthly.

WATER AS A REMEDY.

If more water were consumed, there would be fewer dyspeptics, rheumatics, and billious sufferers. A glass of water taken at night before retiring and the first thing in the morning will obviate a tendency to constipation, and with dyspeptics a glass taken hot or cold before meals will be found efficacious, washing out the stomach putting it in better condition to digest the food. With lemon juice added and drank freely it is useful in rheumatism. In the first stage of a sprain, if hot water is applied, hot as can be borne, and the application renewed constantly, the following day will see the part comparatively free from soreness and capable of being used. If it is an ankle, the foot may be placed in a foot tub of warm water, the heat being raised by the addition of hot water, and the temperature kept up to the limit of endurance for an hour. With children, the warm bath is a sleep-producer in nervous irritability, allaying convulsions, and a rapidly acting stimulant in cases of emergency. When worry, excitement, overwork, indigestion, or some such cause, has banished sleep, drink a tumbler, or a couple of tumblers, of hot water in sips when undressing. The soothing effect is wonderful. Persons but little accustomed to drinking water are liable to have poisons in the body formed faster than they are removed. People accustomed to rise in the morning weak and languid will find the cause in the imperfect secretion of wastes, which many times may be remedied by drinking a full tumbler of water before retiring. This very materially assists in the process during the night, and leave the tissues fresh and strong, ready for the active work of the day. Hot water is one of our best remedial agents. A hot bath on going to bed, even in the hot nights of summer, is a better reliever of insomnia than many drugs. Inflamed parts will subside under the continual poulticing of real hot water. Very hot water, as we all know, is a prompt check of bleeding, even of nose bleed in desperate cases, and it is clean, as it should be, it aids in sterlizing the wound.

A $10,000 FIRE.

NORRISTOWN, Pa., January 17. Fire which started in the large barn of John J. Quay about 7.30 o'clock this evening quickly spread to the barns of Paul Daring and Bryan Boyle, on Penn alley. At 9 o'clock the fire was still burning fiercely. There were 15,000 pounds of stocking waste in Daring's barn. The origin of the fire is not known. The live stock was saved. The loss is estimated at $10,000.

—After the 30th of this month you can purchase a telephone for a few dollars, and for about $35, you can purchase a complete system with all the necessary implements for both ends of the line, as the Bell patent of January 30, 1877, expires on the above date, and the receiver and transmitter will be free to the public.

—There was an unusually large attendance at the Sunday evening meeting of the Christian Endeavor Society. The subject was "temperance" and Charles Bosner officiated as leader. A male sextette rendered some delightfully appropriate music.

CANDIDATES FOR GOVERNOR.

Williamsport Democratic Politicians Getting in the Swim.

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa., Jan. 19.—It is reported that H. Clay McCormick of the banking firm of Payne, Cochran & Co. will be a candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor. It is also reported he will likely buy the Gazette and Bulletin, Republican newspaper here, and make its politics Democratic. It is understood the deal is under way.

The name of J. Henry Cochran, business partner of Mr. McCormick, who was asked to be the Democratic candidate for congressman-at-large, but who declined, is freely mentioned as a compromise appointee as collector at the port of Philadelphia. Being asked if he would accept the place, Mr. Cochran said: "I am not after the position, and as to whether I would accept it an answer would pe premature. I have been working for John R. Read, and will continue to do so. He is the man for the place, and nine-tenths of the people are with Chairman Harrity. Yes, I have heard I was mentioned, but I am not a candidate. Senator Ross, of Bucks, James Ellis, of Schuykill, Judge Butcher, of Union and Chauncey F. Black have been named for the place."

I. S. FRAIN,

—James Matthews, a farmer near Union town, Fayette county, Pa., had a desperate encounter with a huge panther one night last week. Awakened by a noise in his stable he dressed and putting a revolver in his pocket hurried out to investigate. He had barely entered the barn when a heavy body sprang out and bore him to the floor. Realizing his peril he rolled over. His coat was torn almost in shreds, but finally he found the revolver, placed it at the beast's head and fired. He then broke away, ran outside, closing the door. He could hear the animal struggling, and after it had become quiet again he entered the barn. A huge panther was lying on the floor stretched out dead.

A JOKE ON DR. GRAY.

The Williamsport Gazette and Bulletin says: "At the Sheffer-Fillman wedding, South Side, Thursday morning, practical jokers secured what they thought was the groom's overcoat, and after stuffing doll babies into the sleeves, the latter and the pockets were sewed shut. Imagine the chagrin of the jokers when Dr. E J Gray, President of Dickinson Seminary, who officiated at the wedding, discovered that it was his coat that had been tampered with The reverend gentleman was at first at a loss to discover what ailed the garment, but when he did so, he enjoyed the joke immensely."

WILL GO TO MILLHEIM.

C. H. Morris, of Philadelphia, in company with his father, D. M. Morris, of Loganton, were pleasant callers at this office on Tuesday. The former gentleman intends opening a drug store in Millheim on the first of April, next, which he will conduct on the most approved style. He is a graduate of the Philadelphia College of Pharmacy and has five years' experience in the drug business.—Millheim Journal. Mr. Morris was formerly with Dr. Pierson, in Lock Haven.

EXPLOSION AT DUBOIS.

Thursday evening in the hosiery mill at DuBois the machine for pressing hosiery suddenly exploded. The machine weighed 2,200 pounds and flew into pieces. The building was considerably damaged. There were twenty employees in the mill, but fortunately no person was injured. No cause for the explosion can be given.

A FOND PARENT.

Officers of the Pennsylvania Railroad Relief department are telling about a man in Italy who immediately sent two remaining sons to this country upon receiving the news of another son's death on the Pennsylvania railroad and a check for $505, representing a death benefit held by the son, who belonged to the relief department. It is said to be an actual fact, the other two sons being now employed as laborers on the line and being members of the relief.

—Geo. T. Bush and Wilbur Twitmire will in the future handle glib-tongued strangers without the use of kid gloves. It costs something sometimes to find out all about a man, but it is never necessary to pay a second instalment to keep up the acquaintance.

—We are reliably informed that Gen. Beaver, who has had a personal interview with the parties interested, and Gen. Hastings and Col. Spangler will all be present, at the Board of Trade meeting Monday evening to address the citizens in behalf of the movement mentioned in another part of to-day's paper.

—George B. Crawford was busy to-day with a large force of men moving his damaged stock, pool and billiard tables from his late stand in the burned Conrad block to the room owned by Mrs. McCarthy, on Bishop street. The moving of the tables was no little job, it requiring about a dozen men to handle one of them.

—Tyrone has a young man named Scott Watson, aged 17 years and 8 months, who tips the scales at 274 pounds. His height is 5 feet 2 inches, his neck girths 19½ inches, his breast measures 52 inches and his waist 5 feet. He doesn't often go very far from home, but he can be seen nearly every day on West Sixteenth street.

—The dance held at the Bush House Friday evening, and which was gotten up by Messrs. John Furst and Thomas Morris, proved a most pleasant occasion. Guests were present from Tyrone, Altoona, Williamsport, Lock Haven, Harrisburg and other places. The famous Stopper & Fisk orchestra, of Williamsport, was present and furnished the music.

—We notice that Mr. Alonzo G. Rupp, a brother of ex-county register John A. Rupp, of this place, has moved from Oak Hall to Philipsburg. Mr. Rupp is a huckster by trade and the Philipsburg Journal says "one of the most reliable ones that comes to that place." The Oak Hallites were sorry to lose so good a citizen, but what is their loss is Philipsburg's gain.

—A Bradford undertaker says: "If you are in doubt about whether or not a man is dead, apply a flame to the flesh of the man, and if the heat shows a moist blister, one that contains water instead of air, the subject is not dead." To this the Spring boro Enterprise adds: "There are some people in Spring boro who imagine themselves alive who might discover their error by the same experiment."

TWO THOUSAND STAMPS

Three men were arrested in Harrisburg on Thursday afternoon and locked up. One of them carried a small package and a box wrapped up in paper. After the arrest the box was opened and found to contain over 2,000 uncancelled stamps of all denominations. The men are supposed to be implicated in the Danville postoffice robbery a few nights previous.

NEW MINE OPENED.

The Johnsontown Breeze says: Hall & Kaul's coal mine at Brandy camp was started up in full blast Thursday, giving employment to about sixty or seventy men. As it is opened up, a large force will be put on until, according to expectation, an army of 300 men will find employment in and about the mines.

FIRE LOSSES ARRANGED.

The amounts of insurance allowed the various sufferers by Monday morning's fire are as follows: George W. Crawford, $380; Centre Democrat, $238; Mesh Graham, $67; Beezer's meat market, $58. The insurance on the building has not yet been adjusted. All the above amounts seem low, for the amounts carried.

AWARDED FIFTY DOLLARS.

The jury in the replevin case of W. F. Peters ys. Willis Weaver, et al., returned a verdict in favor of the plaintiff for $50. The completion of this case concluded the business for this week and court adjourned to meet on Monday morning in the regular Quarter Sessions.

LOST A FINE COW.

Mr. John Noll had the misfortune to lose a full blooded cow on Wednesday morning. The cause of death was milk fever. The animal was a very valuable one and the loss is quite heavy on John.

Prof. HARRIS' SOLUBLE MEDICATED Pastille

THE PASTILLE CURE FOR NERVOUS DEBILITY TRADE MARK

Has been put up in a proprietary form since 1878, and has been used for years prior to that time in private practice. It is no untried nostrum, of doubtful reputation, but a genuine specific for a very prevalent disease. Thousands of men, of all ages, have at some time in life brought on nervous debility and exhaustion, with organic weakness, by over brain work, excesses, too frequent indulgence or indiscretion and vicious habits, and it is to these that we offer a remedy that will, by its direct action upon the seat of the disease, stop the drain and restore the patient to vigorous health and strength.

Our method of introducing Prof. Harris' Pastille is one which commends itself to all sensible persons—for the reason that we supply it upon the honor system of its value. We ask of our patrons nothing in the way of expense beyond a postal card and a two cent postage stamp. The postal card to be used in sending us their full address and the postage stamp for the letter returning the statement of their case for which we supply them with a question blank, to be filled out and an envelope addressed to ourselves for use in returning it when filled.

When we receive the statement on blank we prepare eight days' treatment and forward it by mail and prepay postage thereon—and along with the eight days' treatment we send full directions for use. The treatment in no way interferes with a person's attention to business, and causes no pain or inconvenience in any way.

We are so positive that it will give perfect satisfaction that we leave the matter of sending orders entirely with those using the free trial treatment. Having satisfied those sending for trial packages of our ability to benefit their sexual condition we feel that they are more largely interested than ourselves in continuing the use of the Pastilles. Even then we do not attempt to rob them by demanding high prices. On the contrary, we make the price as low as possible, and the same to all. They are as follows: $3 for one month; $5 for two months; $7 for three months.

These prices secure the delivery of the Pastilles by mail. If desired by express we leave the patient to pay the charges. For over ten years we have operated our business upon this plan with satisfactory results.

We ask all persons needing treatment for any of the secret ills which come to mankind through a violation of nature's laws to send us their address on postal card or by letter and allow us to convince them that PROF. HARRIS' SOLUBLE MEDICATED PASTILLES have merit and are what they need.

THAT INDIAN CLAIN.

A Perfect Claim of Title Against Old Chief Abell.

FRANKLIN, Pa., Jan. 19.—Interest is revived in this county in the old Indian claim for lands in Oil City by the visit to Gov. Pattison of old Chief Solomon Abbell of Warren county, a descendant of Chief Corn planter, whose people owned lands in Southern New York and Northwestern Pennsylvania, and whose descendants still linger on the reservation at Salamanca, N. Y. Solomon called to present to the governor his claim for fifty acres of ground on the spot now occupied by Oil City.

In the Venango county archives is found a record that the east side of Oil City was owned by Cornplanter, chief of the Seneca Indians, as his personal property, and given to him by the government in 1796. He held it until May 26, 1818, when he sold it to William Kinnear of Centre county and William Connely of Venango county for $2,121. Connely resold his half of the purchase to Cornplanter in October of the same year, and it was sold by the sheriff November 22, 1819, to Alexander McCalmont of Franklin. Five years later this half was sold to Matthias Stockberger, and on June 25 Stockberger, Kinnear and Richard Noys became partners in the erection of an iron furnace, foundry and mill, with houses, steamboat landing and warehouses at the east side of the mouth of Oil creek. This settlement was known as Oil Creek Furnace. On January 11, 1825, William and Federick G. Crary became partners in the furnace business, and by September 19 had absorbed the whole business. On February 27, 1835, the property and land were sold by Sheriff Andrew McCaslin to William Bell. The latter and his sons operated the plant until 1849. On June 19, 1856 the Bell heirs sold the property to Graff, Hasson & Co., of which William Hasson of this city, was the principal partner. Mr. Hasson says: "About 1889 or 1890 the matter was before the Pennsylvania legislature and the validity of the present titles to the original grant of 300 acres was found so perfect the petition was dismissed."

A VERY BAD HALFPENNY.

LEWISBURG, Pa., Jan. 19.—Last night Mark Halfpenny, a gentleman of high social relations and interested in the woolen mills here, and having a wife and family, eloped with Mrs. Alvin Angstadt, the wife of a prominent tobacconist. The couple met at Watsontown, and after taking supper at Cooner's hotel, bought tickets and had their baggage checked for Cleveland, Ohio. Mr. Angstadt took his wife's trunk to the depot and bade her good-by, believing that she intended visiting friends at Boalsburg. Halfpenny had often visited Angstadt's house and with the latter's wife the three passed the evening playing cards, Angstadt never having the slightest suspicion that his wife was playing him false. Angstadt is now almost distracted with grief and has telegraphed the chief of police of Cleveland to arrest the couple when they call for their baggage.

A BILL ALL RIGHT.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 19.—Secretary Carlisle received a letter to-day out of the usual order which afforded the other officials some amusement. It came from Rev. A. B. Taylor, of Mount Alton, McKean county, Pa., and inclosed a new $1 bill. In substance the divine informed the secretary that one of his parishioners had brought him a green goods circular, and in order to trap the swindler an answer was sent asking for a sample of the goods. By return mail the dollar bill was received. Believing it to be counterfeit the divine came to the conclusion that he had made out a clear case for the benefit of Uncle Sam and he therefore forwarded all the correspondence and the bill.

A cursory examination of the bill by the officials led them to pronounce it genuine. It is supposed the swindler enclosed a good bill to lead the victim to bite at the offer.

FLORIDA AND THE FIGHT.

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan: 19.—A special from Jacksonville says the Duval Athletic Club has leased the railway to Mayport, Florida, for January 25. In case the Governor stops the fight at the arena, the fight will occur at some point on that road. The club will allow no one on the train without an admission ticket. In this event the fight will take place under a tent holding 6,000 persons. It will be impossible for the Governor to stop the fight. The tip will be given as to the location on January 24 and the battle will be fought to a finish on January 25. Both men are training hard and the town is full of sports. Mitchell is growing in the betting.

ATTEMPT TO ASSASSINATE.

PITTSBURG, Jan. 19.—John H. Adley, a colored ex-policeman of the Pittsburg force, was shot and it is believed fatally injured at Jeanette last night. Frank Wilson fired the bullet, and at the same time attempted to take the lives of three others. One of the bullets went through the wrist of a colored man and another glanced from the corset steel of Cora Harris, at whose place the shooting occurred George Booker also escaped the shots fired by the jealous and drunken negro by running away. Wilson escaped.

PROF. SHORTLIDGE RELEASED.

CHELTER, Pa., Jan. 19.—The habeas corpus preceedings to secure the removal of Prof. S. C. Shortlidge, the slayer of his wife, from the county jail to an insane asylum, was heard in the office of the jail this morning before Judge Clayton, who decided to release the prisoner on bail in the sum of $15,000, and he will be removed at once to an asylum.

A CHEERFUL PERSONALITY.

There is no power so strong, so potent so dominating as the power of personality. When the members of a household bring this power in its fullest charm to bear on the household of life, the house hold at once becomes the home. No resources of wealth can give no limitations of poverty can take away, this all conquering force.

And while charm of personality is to some extent, indeed to a very great degree, a natural gift—it can also be very successfully cultivated and it is the duty of every human being to endeavor to cultivate it. Moroseness and gloom effectually kill out all the gladness and sunshine of life; and taking those away there is also taken away the working force, the energy that forms the motor. In a happy and peaceful frame of mind all work, or even cares, are comparatively easy to bear; in moroseness, or bitterness they are quite the reverse.

It is just as easy to have the manner of pleasantness, of ease, of response, as it is to go about in a very atmosphere of the forbidden and repellent. Thought is the one and only force, and it is perfectly easy to think on those things that are pleasant and lovely and of good report. It is largely a habit of mind, and good habits, as well as bad ones, are to a great extent a matter of formation for one's self. Good spirits as they are called, are half the battle. Any work is half done already if entered upon in a cheerful frame of mind.

A most important part of children lies in cultivating the habit of looking on the pleasant side of things rather than reverse. There is moral efficacy in a joke. Fun and humor are the salt that keeps the savor. To be able to make light of the little ills and accidents of life is to hold the controlling power over them.

There is no experience more disheartening than to encounter the person who, in response to one's casual inquiry as to health and general outlook, responds drearily and gloomily. Such a disposition makes the encounter with its possessor a burden—like an avalanche flung on one. It is a serious fault, and one that can and should be overcome. No one has any moral right to go about the world in a state of gloom carrying with him a bitter, repellant atmosphere. Life is given to be glad in; to use worthily; to make the most of for ourselves and for others. To be pleasant, to be agreeable and responsive and cheerful and uplifting is an important part of the personal duties of life.

WHAT A MAN NEEDS A WIFE FOR.

It is not to sweep the house, make the bed, darn the socks and cook the meals, chiefly, that a man needs a wife. If this is all, servants can do it more cheaply than a wife. If this is all, when a young man calls to see a lady, send him to the pantry to taste the bread she has made; send him to inspect the needle work and bed making, or put a broom in her hands and send him to witness its use. Such are important, and the wise young man will quickly look after them. But what the true man wants is companionship, sympathy and love. The way of life has many dreary places, and man needs a companion to go with him. A man is oftimes overtaken by misfortune; he meets with failure and defeat; trials and temptations beset him; and he needs one to stand by him and sympathize. He has some hard battles to fight with poverty, enemies and with sin; and he needs a woman, that when he puts his arms around her, feels he has something to fight for; that will help him to whisper words of counsel and put her hand to his heart and impart courage. All through life, through storm and sunshine, through conflict and victory, through adverse and favorable winds man needs a woman's love; the heart yearns for it. A sister or a mother's love will hardly supply the need.

SPICE-BOX SIFTINGS.

A loafer is never satisfied with his wages.

Lovers fancy that the universe is merely a candy factory.

The man who hates light is always afraid of his own shadow.

The easiest thing for a fool to do is tell how little he knows.

When a man has no rights left then he begins to assert his wrongs.

One of the safests and best clubs a man can belong to is his family.

All that a romantic young man wants are his sweetheart and an island.

When people have only a little religion they are apt to be ashemed of it.

The man goes to bed tired who spends the day looking for an easy place.

ITALIANS were employed to lay the water mains for Newtown, L. I., and when the Bohemians, Poles, Hungarians heard of it they were full of wrath at the idea that foreigners should be allowed to take work which they so much need, and the sheriff had to appear to restore peace.

HELPING POOR LO.

Few people realize to just what extent Uncle Sam is aiding the Indians of this country. That one may fully realize what is being done the following statistics in regard to the Cheyenne river agency will be interesting. This agency has a population of 2,450 Indians according to the last census. The annual supplies received at the agency for rations, ammunition, school, etc., are as follows: Flour, 500,000 pounds; groceries, clothing, etc., 450,000 pounds; corn, 400,000 pounds; coal, 250,000 pounds; lumber, 100,000 pounds; coffee and sugar, 100,000 pounds; school supplies, 100,000 pnunds; bacon and pork, 40,000 pounds; agricultural implements, 30,000 pounds; stoves 10,000 pounds; beef, 2,628,800 pounds. These figures were furnished by the chief clerk at the agency and do not include the trade of two "post trader" stores. There are nearly seventy-five government employes on the reservation, including twenty-seven Indian policemen. Besides the denominational schools on the reservation there are ten government schools, including one large boarding school which will accomodate over 100 scholars.

CHAIRMAN REEDE 'S CALL.

To the Republicans of Centre County.

Owing to changes in the Ballot Law, it will be necessary for the Republican party to make its nominations early for the various Borough and Township offices. The tickets must be printed by the County Commissioners. Under the law, all nominations must be made by regular, organized caucuses and must be certified to the Commissioners at least eighteen days before the day of election. I have prepared and will send out to the various committeemen of the County the necessary blanks with full instructions.

The Republicans are requested to meet in caucuses and make their nominations not later than January 27th, 1894.

In Boroughs the office of Assistant Burgess is abolished, and the chief Burgess is elected for three years.

In both Boroughs and Townships, Tax collectors are to be elected on February 20 1894, for the term of three years.

In Boroughs composed of more than one ward, and in townships composed of more than one precinct, it will be necessary for the ward and precinct caucuses to nominate the ward or precinct ticket and then certify it on the blank furnished. Then conferees are appointed for each ward or precinct and these conferees will meet in convention and nominate the Borough or Township ticket, and this ticket must then be certified on a separate blank furnished for that purpose, by the officers of the convention.

WILBUR F. REEDER,
Chairman of Republican Co., Com.

WAS ASSASSINATED.

A Mill Boss Murdered and Robbed in South Chester.

CHESTER, Pa., January 21.—With his pockets turned inside out and rifled of their contents the dead body of Charles McGlone, a boss at the Wellmann iron and steel works, was found this morning in an open lot near Culp's brick yard, South Chester. Morris Crawford, colored youth, first discovered the corpse and he ran and notified Chief of Police Boone. The news spread quickly and fully 1,000 people collected on the spot until the coroner's undertaker removed the remains to his office There were no marks of violence upon the body perceptible to the naked eye other than a bruise on the left side of the face, but the suspicious circumstance surrounding the case induced the coroner to have a post mortem examination made. The result will not be made known until to-morrow night at the inquest, but it is learned from an official source the death was caused by a blood clot on the brain. District Attorney Schaeffer and the police authorities have been in consultation and the officers have been directed to follow out any clews learned. McGlode was about 35 years of age and resided with his wife and two children on Flower street. The numerous attempts at highway robbery in the western part of the city convey the impression that McGlone may have been an unfortunate victim of foot pads who sand bagged and robbed him.

GAVE HASTINGS A BOOM

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 20.—The delegates elected to the Republican state convention gave Hastings, for governor, a big boom to-day. The caucus was held this afternoon at the headquarters of the Republican state committee. The meeting was called to order by Thomas L. Hicks. There was but four absentees. On motion of David Martin, Gen. Wagner was selected as chairman. On motion of David Lane, E. A. Anderson and George G. Pierie were named as secretaries. The following resolution offered by Mr. Martin, was adopted without one dissenting voice:

"Resolved, That in harmony with the sentiment of the Republicans of Philadelphia, we, the delegates to the state convention to be held on May 23, 1894, cordially endorse Gen. D. H. Hastings as a candidate for governor, and pledge ourselves to so act and vote in said convention as to best promote his nomination.

THEREBY HANGS A TALE.

"And so, from hour to hour, we ripe and ripe,
And then, from hour to hour we rot and rot,
And thereby hands a tale."

And truly, "'tis a tale of woe," of one who had Catarrh in the head, for many years, and who really had been "rotting," from hour to hour, until Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy came to his notice. He used it at first with slight signs of relief, but he persisted until a permanent cure was effected, and the world was again pleasant to live in. From his awful suffering he was set free by the expenditure of a few dollars in that incomparable remedy.

FOUND DEAD.

GLEN CAMPBELL, January 21.—The dead body of John Cunningham, who resides about eight miles from this place, was found this morning. He and his son-in-law, Bookermire by name were hunting last Thursday and neither came home. It is supposed his son-in-law killed him for the money, he carried amounting to $200, and which was taken. The murdered man was 60 years of age and had been granted a pension on Wednesday. Bookermire is missing.

CHICAGO ELECTION CONTEST.

CHICAGO, Jan. 20.—The Republican city committee, through its attorney, John S. Miller, this afternoon filed a petition in the county court asking for a recount of the mayoralty vote, alleging that Mayor Hopkins was not legally elected, but was counted in fraudulently.

According to the figures presented by the Republicans Swift's plurality of the votes that should have been counted was about 20,000.

The usual treatment of catarrh is very unsatisfactory, as thousands can testify. Proper local treatment is positively necessary to success, but many, if not most, of the remedies in general use afford but temporary relief. A cure certainly cannot be expected from snuffs, powders, douches and washes. Ely's Cream Balm, which is so highly commended, is a remedy which combines the important requisites of quick action, specific curative power, with perfect safety and pleasantness to the patient. The druggists all sell it.

SIX CENTS.

NEW YORK, Jan. 20.—Annie Coyne, the 11-year-old cash girl who sued Truesdell & Co., of Eighth avenue, to recover $3,000 for false arrest and imprisonment, got a verdict for 6 cents before Justice Beach, of the supreme court. She said that in November, 1891, she was accused of theft in the store and was subsequently locked in a room and searched. Nothing was found on her.

A MINER MURDERED.

HAZLETON, Pa., January 21.—A number of Polish miners were attacked last night on the road between Shippton and Oneida. A man named Labriaski was so badly injured that he died soon after. It was found that his abdomen had been cut open and his intestines and liver mutilated. Thirteen men have been arrested among them George Watchock, of Oneida. The latter is charged with using the knife.

"It Might Have Been."

What a Depth of Thought in Those Few Words.

HOW OFTEN AND WITH WHAT SADNESS DO WE QUOTE THEM.

It Might Indeed Have Been Had We Only Known In Time.

Probably no words are more frequently quoted than these, and surely none could have a greater meaning or show more clearly that some calamity in our lives, caused perhaps by ourselves, through ignorance, carelessness or insufficient attention to the laws of nature, might have been averted. How true is it especially in regard to the sick. Might it not have been the case with nearly all of us at some period that had we but known what to do at the proper time, much suffering could have been saved?

No one knows this better than Mrs. Mary Henderson, who lives at 89 Congress Avenue, Flushing, Long Island.

"I suffered terribly," she said—"from rheumatism, and was weak, tired and nervous all the time. I was so sore all over when I would rise in the morning and felt so tired that it seemed as if it would take me an hour to dress.

"I am thankful to say, however, that all these troubles have passed away, thanks to a wonderful remedy which I have used. This remedy is Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, and I feel it my duty to tell what benefits I have derived from the use of this great medicine.

"The news is too good to keep and I feel that it should be made known, and I certainly will do all that lies in my power to spread it because the medicine has done so much for me. It will surely help others if they will only give it a trial.

"Why, I feel like a new person, and I am now able to do all my work and stand it well- I am surprised at myself and the strength and vigor this wonderful medicine has given me."

And now, readers, if you have been suffering from nervous or blood disease, causing debility, dyspepsia, or any of the conditions depending upon diseased nerves or blood, and have been thinking of what might be if you could but recover your health, we say to you in all confidence take this wonderful medicine and you will be cured. It is purely vegetable and harmless.

Dr. Greene, the noted specialist in curing all chronic and nervous diseases, is its discoverer. He can consulted at his office, 35 W. 14th Street, New York, free of charge, personally or by letter.

AN EPIDEMIC OF MEASLES.

The epidemic of measles in New York has stirred up the sanitary authorities of the city, who see that something heroic must be done to stop it. During the present week the cases have exceeded 100 a day and the average daily death rate from that cause has been 17. Like so many other epidemics there this one originated in the quarters where the poor are housed more like dumb brutes than human beings, and owing to the hard times are the less able to provide properly or care for their sick. So the disease spread from member to member of families, and being no respector of persons has attacked those in good circumstances. That is one of the ways in which the neglect of the poor is revenged. They may die of disease contracted from insufficient food and warmth and pure air, but in dying leave a poison for the veins of others more happily situated in life. Measles is not in itself such a dangerous disease, but leads to complications which are highly dangerous, as with the organs of the throat and chest. The changeable and frequently damp weather has been conducive to these complications, which account for the high death rate among the little ones.

A congested condition of the throat and bronchial tubes is a dangerous symptom. Inflammation of the bronchia extending downward may soon reach and involve the lungs. Under such circumstances to avert consumption take Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup regularly according to the directions on the bottle.

COUNTRY ROAD CONVENTION.

UNIONTOWN, Jan. 20.—A county convention was held here to-day to discuss means for getting better roads. Great interest was shown in the matter, and a permanent organization was formed to agitate the subject until something substantial was done.

The sentiment was in favor of the state appropriating money for the improvement of the roads in the manner school funds are handled, the laying out of the roads to be in the hands of a state engineer and county engineers, and favoring but one road supervisor to each township, who should be appointed for five years. The tax, it was held, should be paid in money, and a county debt was favored in the absence of state appropriations.

NOT A MIRACLE, NOW.

Until recently Consumption was considered incurable, but now people are beginning to realize that the disease is not incurable. The cure of Consumption is not a miracle, now. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will cure it, if taken in time and given a fair trial. This world renowned remedy will not make new lungs, but it will restore diseased ones to a healthy state when other means have failed. Thousands gratefully testify to this. It is the most potent tonic, or strength restorer alterative, or blood cleanser, and nutritive, or flesh builder, known to medical science. For Weak Lungs, Spitting of Blood, "Liver Complaint," and Dyspepsia, or Indigestion, it is an unequaled remedy.

A DESPERATE WOMAN'S ACT.

CHICAGO, Jan. 21.—A sad case of destitution was brought to the attention of the police, who Friday night found a young woman attempting to kill herself by striking her head against a water plug at Thorpe and Madison streets. The officers took her to the station, where she gave the name of Mrs. Jennie Dodge. Five months ago she married William Dodge, who is an engineer.

They came to Chicago from Hornellsville, N. Y., a short time ago. Her husband failed to secure work and a few weeks ago deserted her. She was left destitute and unacquainted with anyone in the city. As a last resort she concluded to kill herself. The police are looking for Dodge.

A HARBINGER OF DEATH.

PORTSMOUTH, O., Jan. 20.—A sad coincidence in the death of George Davis, probably the leading citizen here, is that his daughter, Mrs. Connelly, was alone with him when he died. She had just arrived from a distant point to see him. As she entered the room her father threw up his hands and died instantly.

Two years ago Mrs. Connelly came home to see a sick brother and entered the room alone to see him die without a word of greeting. Going to her own home from that occasion she saw her husband fall dead. Mrs. Connelly is now so ill that her death is feared.

POWDERLY IS OUT TO STAY.

SCRANTON, Jan. 21.—To a United Press reporter to-day, ex-General Master Workman Powderly, of the Knights of Labor, stated most positively that the reported movement to reinstate him as the head of the Knights of Labor had not his sanction; he was in no way connected with it and he had not even been consulted by its promoters. He said that when he resigned it was for once and for all time. In answer to a point blank question he said that he would not accept the position if it was offered him, but intimated that he would not care to be quoted as having said so.

Unequaled as a pain destroyer.—Mr. E. D. Weiss, Gay Building, St. Louis, Mo., writes: "I have used your Salvation Oil several times and find it unequaled as a pain destroyer. I was troubled with pains in my legs and tried several remedies which did me no good. I then used Salvation Oil and the results were good."

MORE WORK AT JOHNSTOWN.

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., January 21.—Fires have been lighted for the first time in the new 14 inch mill of the Gautier steel works in this city and the machinery will probably be put in motion about Wednesday or Thursday.

The Patton coal mines, in this county, which have been idle for several months, will resume this week. Several hundred men will be put to work. There is great rejoicing in Patton over the cheering news.

A JURY OUT 96 HOURS.

DOYLESTOWN, Pa., January 21.—The jury in the case of Wallace Burt gave no indication to day that they had arrived at a verdict, and even if they had finally decided on the man's guilt or innocence, the conclusion reached would not have been made public until court opens to-morrow morning. Up to 6.30 to-night the jury had been out ninety-six hours struggling with the question whether the half-breed killed Samuel Rightly and his wife.

LILLIAN MARRIED AGAIN.

NEW YORK, January 21.—Miss Lillian Russell, the comic opera queen, was married this morning at 11 o'clock to Mr. John Chatterton, known on the stage as Signor Perugini. The ceremony was performed by Judge Moller in Hoboken, N. J. A dinner was given to-night at Mrs. Chatterton's residence. During the day Mr. and Mrs. Chatterton had many callers, who came to tender their congratulations.

RELIEF FOR UNEMPLOYED.

HARRISBURG, Pa., January 21.—An ordinance passed councils last night authorizing the highway commissioner to enter into a contract with certain gentlemen representing the Harrisburg Benevolent association, a prominent charitable organization, for several thousand perches of stone to be broken by the unemployed workmen of the city. It is expected that hundreds will be given work.

Don't give up in despair and acknowledge that you are a hopeless slave to Tobacco, Opium or Drink, when Hill's Chloride of Gold Tablets, sold by all leading druggists, will effect a speedy, permanent cure and make a man of you.

HARDSHIP AND ILL-USAGE.

A Lynn, Mass., Man, After a Long Walk, Arrives at His Home.

LYNN, Mass., January 22.—After six days' walking, foot-sore, hungry, ragged and nearly exhausted, a Lynn man has returned from a lumber camp in New Hampshire and tells a tale of hardship and ill-usage. In the latter part of December, with fourteen other men, he left for Lincoln, N. H., to work at the logging camp of J. R. Henry & Sons, dealers in lumber and charcoal. They had been engaged through a Lynn agency and were furnished the customary employment slips. These had been returned to the Lynn agency marked "O. K." and "Accepted," but the men state that when they reached the camp, after paying about $4 in railroad fares, which consumed all their money, they were told that there was no work for them, and that the firm had never desired or attempted to hire any men from Lynn through any agency. The men delivered their employment slips and the firm retained them.

Without funds or friends the men asked to be given work until they could earn enough at the wages paid, $20 per month, to enable them to get home. Some secured this favor, but were forced to sleep in the open air, and one man had his hair frozen to a log one night and in awakening pulled a portion of his scalp off with the hair. They were worked hard and poorly fed on beans and bread of the coarsest description, and finally, when they asked for a settlement, where told that they had taken up in board all that they had earned. Then several of them started to tramp back to Lynn, one man arriving to-day and placing his case in the hands of a local attorney. He states that others of the party are scattered along the road in hospitals in Manchester, Concord and Nashau, N. H., while others are detained at the camp and will not be permitted to leave until they have settled claims brought against them by the New Hampshire firm for their board. The Lynn agency is much exercised over the matter and has three times demanded an explanation of Henry & Sons, but without success.

JOHNSTOWN IS DETERMINED.

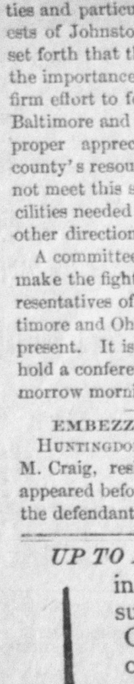

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., January 22.—A mass meeting of immense proportions was held in the Johnstown opera house to night. Fully 2,500 people crowded into the building and 3,000 made up an overflow meeting in the park near by. The purpose of the meeting was to take steps towards forcing the Pennsylvania and Baltimore and Ohio companies to provide the city with better railroad facilities, to inaugurate a determined movement for a new railroad and to make a start in the direction of securing the necessary advantages to the coal fields in Cambria and Somerset counties and particularly the industrial interests of Johnstown. Prominent speakers set forth that the time had arrived when the importance of Johnstown warranted a firm effort to force the Pennsylvania and Baltimore and Ohio companies to show proper appreciation of the city's and county's resources and that if they would not meet this sentiment, the railroad facilities needed would be looked for in another direction.

A committee of fifteen was appointed to make the fight a successful finish. Representatives of the Pennsylvania and Baltimore and Ohio railroad companies were present. It is understood that they will hold a conference with the committee tomorrow morning.

EMBEZZLEMENT CHARGED.

HUNTINGDON, Pa., January 22—James M. Craig, residing near Union Furnace, appeared before 'Squire Patton to-day as the defendant in a criminal proceeding in which he is charged with embezzlement and larceny as bailee to the extent of $2,200 and was bound over for his appearance at court. James Craig's four brothers—Isaac J., John, William and George—are after him to render an account for that amount of money, which they allege belongs to their father's estate and to which they are entitled to equal shares. John Craig is a minister of the gospel residing in Centre county. It seems that James was in possession of the money and brothers believe he has it now.

UP TO A CERTAIN POINT

in the progress of Consumption, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is a positive remedy. Even in the most advanced cases, it gives comfort and relief; and where other medicines only relieve, this will cure.

But delay is dangerous, with Consumption. In all the conditions that lead to it, the "Discovery" is the remedy. With severe, lingering Coughs or Weak Lungs, nothing acts so promptly. Every disease that can be reached through the blood yields to this medicine. The Scrofulous affection of the lungs that's called Consumption is one of them. For this, and for every other form of Scrofula, for all blood-taints and disorders, and all chronic Bronchial, Throat, and Lung affections, the "Discovery" is the only remedy so certain that it can be guaranteed.

PENSIVE AND EXPENSIVE.

Many a woman shrinks from consulting a physician about functional derangements and weakness, and perfers to suffer in silence. She is sad and pensive, and her neglect of her ailments will prove expensive. It may cost her her life. One of the most skillful physicians of the day, who has had a vast experience in curing diseases peculiar to women, has prepared a remedy which is of inestimable aid to them. We refer to Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, the only remedy for women's peculiar weaknesses and ailments, sold by druggists, under a positive guarantee from the manufacturers, that it will give satisfaction in every case, or money refunded.

THINGS TERSELY TOLD.

It never makes the day any brighter to growl at the cloudy weather.

The charge of the light brigade—gas bills.

The undertaker differs from the pugilist in that he lays out his man before he boxes him.

Many a man never reaches the turning point of his life until he gets his nose down to the grindstone.

When a man claims that grip is only a vagary of a diseased brain, it is pretty safe to bet he has never had it.

A Bucks county farmer says the less game there is the more hunting there is, which seems perfectly natural after all.

Mice may be very insignificant creatures but they are superior to most men when it comes to getting the best of a woman.

The Frank I. Frayne Theatrical Company stranded at New Castle, and two bears were sold to buy railroad tickets for the girls.

The popular song, "Mamie, Come Kiss Yo' Honey Boy," has been translated into the Polish. The chrous is as follows:

Mamei.....woku mi zaszwici!
Z pieknych kobi tjemu raj!
Paru kilki bylo rude.
Reszte czarne—co.....aj vaj!

FOUND HER VOICE.

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa., Jan. 23.—A remarkable recovery of lost speech occured here on Saturday night. Mrs. J. D. Pyser, as the result of grip, lost her voice completely three years ago last September, and she was unable to speak above a whisper. A revival has been in progress in the Methodist church near Mrs. Pyser's home, and she has been a constant attendant. Friday night, she joined the penitents, and while at the penitents' seat on Saturday night suddenly she regained her voice and was upon her feet singing a moment later. She has been congratulated by scores of her friends.

PREFERRED DEATH.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Jan. 23.—Rather than marry Ezra Frasier, a rich man of 40, selected by her parents to be her husband, 15 year old Eva Garriner, of this city, swallowed a lot of Paris green on Saturday night and died on Sunday. She was in love with a young man, but her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Garriner, of 56 York street, who are poor and have six children to support, decided that she should marry Frasier. When the parents saw that their daughter was dying they summoned Frasier to her bedside, and the man swooned when he realized that his child sweetheart was dead.

CARE MUST BE EXERCISED.

The danger which attends the carrying of explosive materials by railroads seems to be recognized by the Pennsylvania railroad and hereafter shippers will be obliged to use great care in such explosives as giant powder, dynamite and nitro-glycerine. It is claimed that if care is exercised in packing there is little or no danger, but, where this precaution is disregarded, the jar of the train in motion might cause explosion, which would not only be destructive to property, but might cause loss of life.

WILL DROP THE FIGHT.

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla., Jan. 23.—Late to-night word was received by Mitchell from Billy Thompson, his representative in Jacksonville, that if the permanent injunction is not granted to-morrow the Duval Athletic club will formally drop the fight and allow the pugilists to pull it off as best they may. The Mitchell party believes that the fight may ultimately be pulled off despite the probable flunk of the club, but are not very specific concerning methods.

FINALLY DISCHARGED.

DOYLESTOWN, Jan. 23.—At 3 p. m. today the jury in the case of Wallace Burt, on trial for the murder of the aged Rightly couple, was discharged by Judge Yerkes, on account of the serious illness of Charles Allen, one of the jurors. The jury has been out since 7.45 o'clock last Wednesday night. Burt was taken back to jail and will have another trial.

WANT THE ENCAMPMENT.

Since Adjutant General Greenland has expressed objections to the Gettysburg battlefield for the national guard division encampment next summer, enterprising citizens of other places have been booming their towns for the encampment. Lewistown and Mt. Gretna are now presenting the advantages of those localities,

THAT BIG FIGHT.

All Restrictions Taken Off the $20,000 Purse—Troops ordered Out.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., January 21.—When at half past 5 o'clock this evening Referee and Stakeholder John Kelly returned here from Corbett's training quarters he brought joy to the anxious crowd of sports, who anxiously awaited his return, for he announced that it had finally been agreed by the club managers, with whom he had made the trip to Corbett, that all restrictions shall be taken off that much discussed $20,000 check. It is an evidence of the feeling of the most knowing ones here as to the prospects for the fight in their opinions, this agreement as to the check, settles the matter finally and favorably.

Referee Kelly told the United Press representative that he had also decided another point about which there had been much interesting discussion. This is as to his location during the contest. He will insist on performing his duties inside the ring.

Mitchell is sulking a good deal about this. It is not likely, however, that the issue will raise any further trouble than a spirited dispute at the ring side, as Kelly is determined to be inside the ring where he can, if necessary, physically enforce his commands to "break away." Owing to the importance attached to the decision arrived at concerning the $20,000 the question of gubernatorial interference, has not been much discussed to-day. There have been some interesting developments in that regard, however. The members of the Second Florida batallion, residing outside of Jacksonville, have been ordered to rendezvous here on Tuesday next. This sounds more formidable than it really is, as the call will marshal only seventy-six militiamen, that being the number in the batallion living outside the town.

THE EUROPEAN WAR SCARE.

War is more talked about in Europe this Spring than in any season for years, but the causes which may lead to war are not more numerous than in recent years.

France may ask England to leave Egypt.

The Italian Government may provoke war as the only escape from revolution.

The Russian fleet in the Mediterranean may take some action which threatens Constantinople and force England to act.

Austria may be forced to act, dragging in Germany and Italy by Russian action on the Mediterranean.

The German staff at Berlin may conclude that it is safer to fight than to wait.

France grows more and more aggressive, now that the Russian alliance exists, and may provoke Germany with any one of several open questions.

If Spain were to get into more serious troubles with Morocco, or Sweden and Norway to get into an inturnecine broil, it might mean war.

If Greece repudiates its debt, as is not improbable, the settlement of its affairs may cause trouble.

DR. TALMAGE'S RESIGNATION.

BROOKLYN, N. Y., Jan. 23.—The Rev. Dr. Talmage gave out the following statement to-day: "My resignation is positive. I will ask the presbytery at the spring meeting to dissolve my pastoral relations. I hope no effort will be made to retain me, as I have expended all the nervous energy I have to spare on financial questions. Fighting two great fires has taken all my surplus forces, and I must keep my health for preaching the gospel. I am in communication with no other church and have no plans for the future." The doctor said that he did not believe the slightest imputation against Mr. Wood, the former treasurer of the Tabernacle, who had been a faithful worker in the church for many years.

UNIONVILLE ITEMS.

Nice weather continues, a slight fall of snow occurred on Sunday, the 21st, but soon all disappered.

The nice winter weather adds to the general depression business, as lumber men who have cut large timber cannot move it to mills or railroad, and farmers who have any produce to market are waiting for snow men who have ice houses to fill have parties engaged to cut ice but all are waiting for ice to freeze thick enough for such use. nevertheless, the mild winter is not without its bright side, when we think of the thousands who, on account of the scarcity of work, have not the shelter and clothing, nor the means to buy fuel, to keep them warm through a cold winter.

S. C. Fultz and Thomas Dole have gone from this place to West Virigina carry on the tomb stone business suppose there are many sorrowful hearts left behind.

Oscar Cadwallader, of Philipsburg, and Clyde Cadwallader, of Bald Eagle, visited their parents in this place over Sunday.

On last Saturday the teachers of this and adjoining townships held an institute in this place which was well attended, and much interest manifested. It proved to be an enjoyable occasion.

The citizens of this place may consider themselves fortnnate in securing a teacher for the grammar school who is blessed with the capacity for preaching as well as for teaching. Thus our morall, religious, and intellectual natures are constantly by under the care of awatchful eye.

Some parties have been suggesting that the Central R. R. or Pa., recently built to Bellefonte, be extended south westward through Buffalo Run and Halfmoon Valleys to Huntingdon and on to connect with the B. & O. Railroad. Now, we presume, the projectors of the new line, when they are ready to extend the line, will fully consider which is the most feasible route.

The citizens of Bald Eagle Valley, and especially of Tyrone would respectfully suggest that said valley has the most natural grade for a railroad of any place in this country, and by extending the road along the south side of Bald Eagle Creek to Tyrone there would be no bridges to build and the right-of-way would be a small matter of cost. Being extended along the valleys on the west side of the Muncy mountain range, through Blair and Bedford counties, to Hyndman on the B. & O. road in the southern part of Bedford county, would make the shortest route to that great trunk line, and give an outlet to the great coal fields and timber supply of West Virginia. Otherwise, go down the river from Tyrone a short distance, and then south to the Broad Top Railroad which connects with the B. & O. Although the distance by way of Tyrone to the Broad Top road is a little longer than by way of Buffalo Run and Halfmoon, the cost of construction and of operating will be much less. We hope these suggestions may at least receive favorable consideration. J

"Castoria is the best remedy for children of which I am acquainted. I hope the day is not far distant when mothers will consider the real interest of their children, and use Castoria instead of the various quack nostrums which are destroying their loved ones, by forcing opium, morphine, soothing syrup and other hurtful agents down their throats, thereby sending them to premature graves."
DR. J. F. KINCHELOE, Conway, Ark.

MILLION DOLLAR SUIT PROMISED.

A Farmer Says That Much of Gold Has Been Thrown Into a Furnace.

SHARPSVILLE, Jan. 18.—James Bentley, who owns a farm near this place, is on the warpath after the Claire Furnace Company He went to Sharon to-day with quartz specimens found in excavations made where sand had been taken from the farm. He engaged the services of Colonel Geibner and visited the offices of several prominent iron men and asked their opinion as to whether he had gold-bearing rock The iron men had no time to give them an analysis, and suggested that Bentley and his legal adviser taken them to some chemist and have an analysis made.

Mr. Bentley's samples consisted of quantities of quartz and rock which contained particles of sparkling material similar to gold. The iron men are at a loss to know how Bentley came in possession of the quartz, as it is found only once in awhile and in small quantities in the United States, and they are sure none could be found in this section; but Bentley swears he picked up the samples on his farm. The farm has been leased to the Claire Furnace Company, of Sharpsville, and Bentley claims they have taken $1,000,000 in gold from his farm to the furnace. He threatens suit for recovery. Some of the older iron men interviewed believe that the shining material is sulphur. There is an old story told by pioneers that Indians who once lived in Western Pennsylvania where in the habit of going out and bringing in quantities of lead and gold. Bentley is of the opinion that he has found the place.

AN OLD RESIDENT DIES.

From the Lewistown Gazette we glean the following facts about the life and death of Mr. Thomas Mayes, an old Centre county man, and a representative of one of the oldest families in Centre and Mifflin counties, whose death occurred on Sunday morning after an illness of over a year.

The deceased was almost 74 years of age, having been born near Potter's Mills, Centre county, on February 9, 1820. He came to Lewistown in the spring of 1844, where he has resided ever since. He was a prominent hotel keeper in this place many years ago, before the railroads furnished an outlet for the product of Centre, Clearfield and other counties, and when those products were hauled across the mountain to Lewistown on sleds and wagons and shipped from this place by boat, and during which time he gained an extensive acquaintance throughout the state, many of those who knew him having passed beyond the river of time.

He is survived by a wife, one son and four daughters—Albert C. Mayes, Mrs. O. C. Chesney, Mrs. David Pratt and Mrs. Benjamin Pawling, all residing in Lewistown, and Mrs. Loyd Mitchel, residing at Salina, Kan. Sixteen grand-children and ten great grand-children are also living. There also survive him a brother, John residing at Mill Hall, Pa., and a sister, Catherine Thomas, of Philipsburg, Pa.—He was buried Thursday afternoon, the funeral occurring at 2 o'clock.

MILD WINTERS.

Our venerable friend, Mr. David Krape, of Haines township, writes us a letter about past mild winters, which even excelled this. He says:

"January, 1819, was very mild and warm. On the 23rd James Monks was executed in Bellefonte, and when our people crossed the mountain for their homes in Brush and Pennsvalleys, the toads were hopping around quite lively. It was a model summer day. The 16th, 17th and 18th days of November, 1827, were very cold and the following January was like a summer month. Since that time I have taken particular notice and it always proves correct, that if we get cold weather before the 21st of November, we will have a very mild January. Every body will remember the cold spell we had the beginning of last November, while in the fall of 1892 we had no cold weather until in December, and a cold winter followed.

"In January, 1840, there was mild weather. However, a six-foot snow fell one day, but in three days and nights it was all gone and in February farmers began ploughing and making garden. I never saw a nicer January than we had in 1843. In April of that year the maple trees were ready for sprouting. During the Mexican war we had one January and February so warm that forest fires raged, and people thought the smoke was from a big battle in far-off Mexico."

MADE A GOOD HAUL.

The Huntingdon Local News says: The general merchandising establishment of I. N. Foust, at Mill Creek, this county, was burglarized Wednesday night, the thieves securing considerable booty. Entrance was effected by cutting out a panel in one of the doors, after which the large safe in the room was blown open and from it, as far as known by Wm. Stonebraker, the representative of Mr. Foust, was taken about $100 in postage stamps, also a check of J. G. Gillam on the First National Bank of Huntingdon for $20, and three pension checks, one belonging to Mrs. Mary Stull for twenty-four dollars, and two others, to J. C. Stitt and Henry L. Mickel for $36 each. An amount of cash somewhere between $100 and $150, 2 gold watches, one open face with Trenton movement, the other a hunting case belonging to the late B. R. Foust, one open face silver watch and a letter case containing notes and deeds was also stolen from the safe. The only article of merchandise missed by Mr. Stonebraker is a pair of No. 9 shoes, an evidence that one of the robbers was a man with large feet. The only tools left behind by the marauders was a sledge hammer and a monkey wrench, stolen from the blacksmith shop near by.

THE "DAILY NEWS" CORRECT.

We never try to weary our readers with blowing our own horn, but the difference between our report of the Badger—Eberhart wedding on Thursday and the account that appeared in the Gazette was so enormously great that all could not help but notice it. The Gazette report said:

To-day at noon another one gave herself away to a man for protection and care through life. The bride was Miss Myrtle Eberhart and the groom * * * Mr. Harry Badger. The ceremony took place at the residence of the bride's parents on East High street. The parlor was handsomely and beautifully decorated for the occasion with a variety of blooming flowers and evergreen. Promptly at 12 o'clock the bride and groom made their appearance in the parlor. They were unattended and stood before Rev. Ed. Hoshour, pastor of the Lutheran church. The bride looked very pretty and was attired in a brown traveling suit. She carried a bouquet of roses. It only took a few minute's until Rev. Hoshour pronounced them man and wife. The ceremony was witnessed by only a few friends all of whom congratulated the happy couple and wished them happiness and success through life. The congratulations were followed by a great wedding feast containing all the delicacies of the season. About 2 o'clock the bride and groom left the house for the train amid showers of rice and gum shoes.

The DAILY NEWS report, in brief, was as follows:

At one o'clock this afternoon Miss Myrtle Eberhart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Eberhart, of this place, was united in marriage to Mr. Harry Badger, of Mifflinburg, the ceremony being performed by Rev. Ed. Everett Hoshour, pastor of the Lutheran church, at his residence on East High street. The wedding was a private one owing to the illness of the bride's mother. However, the bride, gowned in a becoming robe of brown, looked just as charming as if she was being married in a church, surrounded with a multitude of admiring friends.

The difference in the above can almost be seen by a blind person. Of course, it is hardly necessary to say that the DAILY NEWS report is substantially correct in every particular, while the only things in the Gazette's report that are correct are that the young people were married and that the bride was dressed in brown. To get the correct account the DAILY NEWS sent a reporter to the bride's home at noontime on Thursday, and before writing this article, to be certain that we were correct, another reporter was sent to the home of Mr. Eberhart Thursday evening to inquire as to the correctness of the respective articles. We need only say that ours was pronounced exact in every particular, which the Gazette's report was pronounced as utterly incorrect.

This is only another proof of the fact that if you want the news, all the news, and want the correct news, you must take the DAILY NEWS.

WHO WILL GET IT?

Just at this time there are five very uneasy gentlemen in Bellefonte—not uneasy because of anything they have done, but uneasy because they all want to do something, and that something is but one thing, and that one thing can only be done by one of the five; and it is because of the uncertainty as to which one (if any) will do it that is causing the uneasiness. In brief, it is who will get the deputy internal revenue collectorship for this 6th district. There are five candidates, Messrs. Al. S. Garman, W. J. Dukeman, James Noll, James Alexander—the fifth man we have forgotten. Of course, each man is well recommended and strongly backed, and equally as well qualified to fill the appointment; and, naturally, they all feel as if they would like to have it. Mr. Grant Herring makes the appointment, and as it is to be made now very soon, the more cause for the apparent restlessness. We wish they all could get it, but we are afraid that unless some different move is made the appointee will not be a Centre county man.

DEAFNESS CANNOT BE CURED

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure Deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever, nine cases of ten are caused by catarrab, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

SPRUNG A LEAK.

On Thursday evening about six o'clock travelers out Spring street, when they came to Lamb street, must have thought a new spring had started forth in Bellefonte. The water was boiling forth out of the ground in a stream strong enough to run a mill. Water Superintendent Samuel Ryan was telephoned for and soon arrived on the scene with a couple of workmen and commenced investigation. It was soon found that the lead packing had been blown from a joint in the new four-inch pipe recently put down on Lamb street. It was only the work of a few hours to dig down to the pipe and fix the leak, and this morning, save for the mud in that locality, everything looked as usual.

PANIC IN A BALL ROOM.

A Warrior in Ballet Skirts Figures in a Melee.

ORANGE, N. J., January 18.—A free fight took place at the annual masked ball of Company K. Second regiment, N. G. S. N. J., held in the William street armory. Six militia men and a gang of tough characters known as the "Burnsides" were the participants. During the melee a lieutenant of the company attacked the crowd with his sword, and several persons were injured. As a result of the fight several members may be court martialed.

The fight occurred about 2.20 in the morning, while the armory was crowded with guests Captain Thomas H. Slack prepared to leave for home, and placed First Lieutenant James J. Devlin in charge. He also gave orders to Sergeant Thomas White that no person be passed in free. Later a half dozen members of the "Burnsiders" gang applied for admission. White told them they could not enter unless they paid. The entire gang sprang upon White, and Thomas Lipsic knocked the sergeant down.

Lieutenant Devlin, who was masquerading as a ballet dancer in red tights and yellow skirts, passed into the hall at the time. Two ladies were with him. He ran to White's assistance, and the gang turned on him. He rushed up stairs and returned with hiss word. Three or four other members of the company learned of the trouble, and a free fight was soon in progress in the lobby. Devlin charged the crowd withhis drawn sword. The crowd was driven back and the "Burnsides" left the hall. Captain Slack on meeting Lieutenant Devlin, asked him for his sword, and the officer gave it up.

While the fight was at its height the leader of the orchestra discharged a pistol loaded with a blank cartridge as a signal for the dancers. A panic ensued among the women in the hall. Lieutenant Devlin received several scalp wounds and one of the civilians had his nose broken. At 3.30 another fight took place and several civilians were slightly injured by thrown bottle and glasses. One of them, William Burke, was arrested and sent to jail for thirty days.

DIED AT CENTRE LINE.

Mrs. Mary Baisor, widow of Godfrey Baisor who died in 1891, died at her home at Centre Line, in Halfmoon township, this county, on Wednesday, at the age of near 80 years. Cause of death was a general breaking down owing to advanced age. Deceased leaves one son, George Baisor, of Buffalo Run, and one daughter Leah Baisor, at home, to mourn her death For many years Mrs. Baisor was a consistent member of the Lutheran church and a devout christain lady. The funeral occurred last Friday at 10 o'clock. Rev. F. L. Bergstresser, of Tyrone, officiated and interment was made at the Centre Line Lutheran church cemetery.

WHEN WAR IS DECLARED

Against a man's happiness by his stomach, the enemy may be pacified and brought speedily and easily to terms. That potent regulator of digestion, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, disciplines the rebellious organ thoroughly. Indigestion arises from weakness of the stomach, and the food in it, for want of the power to digest, decomposes and acidifies, giving rise to heartburn, flatulence and pain, besides a multitude of symptoms both changeful and perplexing. But peace soon reigns when the great stomachic is resorted to and used with persistence. Dyspepsia gives rise to morbid discomposure of mind, and even sleepless ness and hypochondria in chronic cases. To the complete dismissal of these the Bitters is fully adequate. Liver complaint, constipation, debility, rheumatism and malaria are completely subdued by this genial medicine.

TWO-THIRDS WRONG.

The law requiring the registration of all the births and deaths that occur within the county has opened up a new field of news for the local editor. It is usually dead matter, however, a kind of "boiler plate," as it were.—Watchman.

You're 'way off, friend George. Not over one-third of the matter is dead; the other two-thirds are the most lively kind of "news" obtainable. If you don't believe it just get married and you'll soon find out.

TOBACCO HABIT EASILY CURED.

A FEW Testimonials from persons who have been cured by the use of Hill's Tablets.

THE OHIO CHEMICAL CO.:
DEAR SIR:—I have been using your cure for tobacco habit, and found it would do what you claim for it. I used ten cents worth of the strongest chewing tobacco a day, and from one to five cigars; or I would smoke from ten to forty pipes of tobacco. Have chewed and smoked for twenty-five years, and two packages of your Tablets cured me so I have no desire for it.
B. M. JAYLORD, Leslie, Mich.

DOBBS FERRY, N. Y.

THE OHIO CHEMICAL CO.:—GENTLEMEN:—Some time ago I sent for $1.00 worth of your Tablets for Tobacco Habit. I received them all right and, although I was both a heavy smoker and chewer, they did the work in less than three days. I am cured.
Truly yours, MATHEW JOHNSON, P. O. Box 63.

PITTSBURGH, PA.

THE OHIO CHEMICAL CO.:—GENTLEMEN:—It gives me pleasure to speak a word of praise for your Tablets. My son was strongly addicted to the use of liquor, and through a friend, I was led to try your Tablets. He was a heavy and constant drinker, but after using your Tablets but three days he quit drinking and will not touch liquor of any kind. I have waited four months before writing you, in order to know the cure was permanent. Yours truly,
MRS. HELEN MORRISON.

CINCINNATI, OHIO.

THE OHIO CHEMICAL CO.:—GENTLEMEN:—Your Tablets have performed a miracle in my case. I have used morphine, hypodermically, for seven years, and have been cured by the use of two packages of your Tablets, and without any effort on my part.

A RETIRED BUSINESS WOMAN.

A Page From Her History.

The important experiences of others are interesting. The following is no exception: "I had been troubled with heart disease 25 years, much of that time very seriously. For five years I was treated by one physician continuously. I was in business, but obliged to retire on account of my health. A physician told my friends that I could not live a month. My feet and limbs were badly swollen, and I was indeed in a serious condition when a gentleman directed my attention to Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure, and said that his sister, who had been afflicted with heart disease, had been cured by the remedy, and was again a strong, healthy woman. I purchased a bottle of the Heart Cure, and in less than an hour after taking the first dose I could feel a decided improvement in the circulation of my blood. When I had taken three doses I could move my ankles, something I had not done for months, and my limbs had been swollen so long that they seemed almost putrified. Before I had taken one bottle of the New Heart Cure the swelling had all gone down, and I was so much better that I did my own work. On my recommendation six others are taking this valuable remedy."—Mrs. Morgan, 569 W. Harrison St., Chicago, Ill.

Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure, a discovery of an eminent specialist in heart disease, is sold by all druggists on a positive guarantee, or sent by the Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind., on receipt of price, $1 per bottle, six bottles for $5, express prepaid. It is positively free from all opiates or dangerous drugs.

MORE COURT NEWS.

Three More Verdicts and a Breach of Promise Case Now on Trial.

In the case of Mary Fravel vs Sarah Crissman, executrix of etc., of Adam Crissman, deceased, an action to recover amount due plaintiff from the estate of Adam Crissman, a verdict was ordered by the Court in favor of the plaintiff in the sum of $658.81.

In the case of Alfred Jones, use of, vs. Pennsylvania State College, a verdict was found for the plaintiff in the sum of $344.-09.

In the case of The Bird Coal and Iron Co. vs. E. C. Humes a jury was sworn and instructed to return a verdict in favor of the defendant.

The next case taken up was that of Carrie V. Wilson vs Harry McCauley, a case of breach of promise. This case came up for trial early Thursday a. m. Both Miss Wilson and Mr. McCauley live at Hublersburg. The plaintiff testified that the defendant had kept company with her for five or six years; that he had given her his picture and several other presents; that he made a proposal of marriage, was accepted and that their engagement continued several years, until broken by defendant. That said defendant had induced her to come home from Philipsburg in the spring of 1890 in order to get married, but when she returned he failed to fulfill his promises. Plaintiff then sought to induce him to keep his word but, failing in this, in the fall of 1891 instituted proceedings for breach of promise. The plaintiff's testimony was corroborated by her brother-in-law, Mr. Collins and by several other witnesses. The attorneys for the plaintiff, Messrs. E. R. Chambers and W. F. Reeder, stated that although at the present defendant was possessed of no property, yet he was the oldest of a family of only five; his father was the owner of a good farm, and that Harry McCauley would eventually come into posession of a small estate; and that Miss Wilson was certainly entitled to damages for defendant's failure to make her his wife and thus a sharer in whatever of this world's goods he might eventually become possseed of.

The defense, which was conducted by Messrs. Bower and Orvis, proved by the defendant himself that he had never regularly kept company with Miss Wilson; that he never gave her any presents—not even his picture, and that he never asked her hand in marriage, consequently there never was any engagement. The evidence of the defense was directly contradictory of that given by the plaintiff, so that it is plainly evident that one or the other of the contending parties was not telling a straight story; unless we can believe the old adage that "love is blind," and in this case assume it to be all three "blind, deaf and dumb."

The entire case was devoid of the spice and romantic denouements that was generally anticipated, and, had it not been for the apparent youth and beauty of the fair plaintiff, the case might have been almost devoid of interest. As it was, a larger crowd than usually attends the sessions of court was in attendance, and it seemed to be the opinion of the majority that Mr. McCauley might draw a far worse prize in the matrimonial lottery than if he had married Miss Wilson.

The breach of promise case—Carrie Wilson vs Harry McCauley—occupied the time of the court all of Thursday afternoon. On cross-examination of Mr. McCauley the attorneys for the plaintiff endeavored to show just what Mr. McCauley's father's estate was worth and the consequent property that would eventually descend to Harry. The value of the estate was finally fixed at from ten to twelve thousand dollars.

In the afternoon the evidence offered by the defense was mostly on the character of the plaintiff. That our readers may more thoroughly understand the drift of the case we give the evidence in brief.

D. L. Kessinger, of Hublersburg, testified that he had known Miss Wilson since girlhood and that her reputation for truth and veracity was not good; also that she had a bad reputation as to chastity and virtue. This was the general talk of the neighborhood. William Candy, Mr. Yocum, George F. Hoy, H. A. Kessinger, E. L. Markle, Harry Stevenson and Joseph Emerick were all called in turn, and they one and all substantiated the testimony of D. L. Kessinger, in that it was general report that the character of the girl was not good. Defendant rests.

In rebuttal Harry McCauley was again called for cross-examination and the question asked "Did you ever have improper relations with Carrie Wilson?" Objected to and objections sustained by the court.

Frank Carner called. I delivered a letter written by Carrie Wilson while at Philipsburg, to Harry McCauley; delivered it to him in person in a store in Hublersburg.

Carrie Wilson called. Am acquainted with Had Ailison. Never had any improper relations with him; never had any improper relations with any one. I say nothing about my relations with the defendant, one way or the other.

Frank Carner re-called. Never heard plaintiff would not tell the truth. Was raised in Hublersburg. Never heard her character called into question. Am acquainted with her. Consider her character good. Am married to her sister.

William Collins called. Have known Miss Wilson for some time. Never heard her character called into question.

Letter of January 13, 1888, offered in evidence and read, and the case closed.

The attorneys made their pleas to the jury, the Judge delivered his charge and the jury retired shortly before six o'clock, and it was just midnight when they reached a verdict which was sealed up until the convening of court next morning when it was opened and read. They found for the plaintiff and appraised the damages at the extraordinarly munificent sum of $25.

A session of Court was held on Thursday evening during which argument in the Orphan's Court was heard before Judge McPherson on the exceptions filed to the trustee's annual report on the Thomas Estate. Ellis L. Orvis represented the estate and John G Love and General Beaver made the argument for the trustee. The exceptions were filed to a credit of $4,000 paid to the heirs of the former trustees, Judge Daniel Rhoads and John Irvin Esq., and to a payment of $500 to E. R. Chambers, Esq., for auditing the reports. At the conclusion of the argument Judge McPherson directed the Clerk of the Orphan's Court to send to him at Harrisburg all papers bearing on the case, for his examination and consideration, after which he will render his decision. The papers in the Thomas estate are probably the most voluminous of any on record in this State. Covering, as they do, a period of twenty-seven years, during which there have been twenty-six reports filed, they make a bulk so large that they are a good sized load for one man to carry. The papers will be sent by express to Harrisburg this evening.

The forenoon's session of court was entirely taken up with case of W. F. Peters vs. Willis Weaver and L. C. Bullock, an action of replevin to recover a buggy and set of harness. Bower and Orvis are attorneys for the plaintiff and Reeder for the defense.

BASE BALL NOTES

Pitcher Ely will captain the Allentown club this year.

Pottsville would be a good acquisition to the State league.

Shields and Scheible will don Milwaukee uniforms the coming season.

The Scranton club has secured a valuable man in Pitcher Cunningham.

Walters, the fast fielder of last year's Bellefonte club, will be signed by Altoona.

George Hodson, a Bellefonte favorite in the box, in this city, is wintering in Philadelphia.

Betz and Wright, who were Easton's favorites last year, will be with that team again this season.

"Gamey" Westlake and Leamon will play with Billy Sharsig's team, in the Western league next year.

Meeney, of last season's Bellefonte club, is being sought after for the Altoona club's pitching department.

George Westlake will cover third bag for Scranton, while Mayer, of last year's Scranton club, will be in that position for Altoona.

George Goodhart, of last year's Tyrone club, will preside in the catching department of the Reading team the coming season.

All the managers of the different state teams are hustling for good men. The Altoona management have their lines out for a number of stars.

William Wetzel, Bellefonte's "Shorty," Thursday sent his terms to Manager Swift, of Scranton, and "Billie" will, no doubt, wear a Scranton uniform this year.

Now that National league protection is assured, the managers will be able to retire at night without the fear of waking up next morning to find a crack player gone.

The people of Wilkesbarre favor a State league team because of the intense rivalry existing between Scranton and Wilkesbarre, despite the fact that the directors of last year's team have their heads full of Eastern league, and will not hesitate to patronize a State league club, should one be placed there.

The new association starts out with 155 paid up shares and promises to become a very successful organization.

NOT COMING.

Lincoln J. Carter's "Tornado" company has disbanded for the season, consequently they will not appear in Garman's opera house next week.

Howorth's Hibernica, which was booked to appear in this place on the 29th, has also cancelled its date and will not be here.

—The members of the Lutheran congregation had a very pleasant and profitable time at the sociable held at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. William Kuhn, on East Lamb street, Thursday evening, notwithstanding the inclement weather. From the sale of choice refreshments they realized the snug little sum of $11.00.

ANOTHER GRIP VICTIM.

Mrs. Andrew Gregg Dies After a Very Brief Illness.

Mrs. Mary Gregg, wife of ex-county commissioner, Andrew Gregg, died on Wednesday night, at ten o'clock, at the family residence, about two miles west of Centre Hall, after a brief illness of pneumonia. Mrs. Gregg was the victim of a cold about one week ago, which soon developed into other ailments, and finally settled upon her lungs, causing congestion of the lungs, and death occurred at the time stated. From the start Mrs. Gregg's condition assumed an alarming state, and she daily grew worse until about forty-eight hours previous it was seen she could not recover and that death might occur at any moment. She suffered no pain, and was conscious until the last moment conversing with her family and friends, and when the breath of life finally passed from the body it was calm and peaceful, no death struggle, all was still and her soul had gone thence where none returneth.

Mrs. Gregg was aged about fifty-six years, and was the only daughter of Col. William Smith, deceased, of Clintondale, Pa. One brother only, James Smith, now living in New Mexico, survives her. She was a lady much devoted to her family ties, universally respected and appreciated. She was the mother of five children, three sons and two daughters. They are, James, teaching at Lemont; Andrew, John, Miss Annie and Miss Mame, at home, who with their father survive the mother.

MARRIED AT ONE O'CLOCK.

At one o'clock on Thursday Miss Myrtle Eberhart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Eberhart, of this place, was united in marriage to Mr. Harry Badger, of Mifflinburg, the ceremoney being performed by Rev. Ed. Everett Hoshour, pastor of the Lutheran church, at his residence on East High street. The wedding was a private one owing to the illness of the bride's mother. However, the bride, gowned in a becoming robe of brown, looked just as charming as if she was being married in a church, surrounded with a multitude of admiring friends. The happy couple left on the 2.12 train over the Lewisburg for a brief honeymoon with the groom's friends in Mifflinburg and other places, after which they will return to Bellefonte.

Miss Myrtle is well known in this place, having until recently, been one of the very efficient clerks in the Racket Store. She will make a good wife, is the universal opinion. Mr. Badger is a steady, industrious young man. He is now employed in the stove and tin store of W. T. Twitmire. We wish the young people much happiness and a long life.

HOME FOR AGED DUNKARDS.

The new home for aged Dunkards, located at Shirleysburg. will positively be ready for occupancy by April. The committee on the Old Folks' Home for Middle Pennsylvania recently visited the site, and in a subsequent report they expressed the belief that a better location could not have been selected. Being substantially built of brick, and commodious the house is well adapted for the purpose intended. Canvassers for the necessary purchase funds are meeting with unexpected success. The object of the Dunkards is to make it not only a place for their aged members to stay, but a home where the inmates can enjoy all the advantages and privileges of a well conducted Christian family. The home is surrounded by a beautiful lawn, and the adjoining lots are well supplied with fruit trees.

—In drilling a well James Lee, of Centre Hall, at the depth of 40 feet went through a solid vein of the best quality of iron ore and at 58 feet struck a cave fully ten feet in height. The Reporter now puts forth the claim that Centre Hall is built over a monstrous limestone cavern which might rival Luray in beauty and extent, and of which Long's cave, four miles east of there is only the terminus. This might be the case and we would advise our brethren over the mountain to always be very good, as there is no telling just when the cave might open and swallow them all up—no, we mean down.

CLUTCHES AT A STRAW.

There was some life in the stock market Saturday, derived from four sources: The belief that the bond sales will be highly successful, that the bank reserves will reach $100,000,000 to the fact that there is a little stir in the dealing in commercial paper, indicating an increase of general business, and to the fact of the enlarged receipts of the railways for the second week of this month. The only source of real life are the last two facts. The continued growth of the sum of idle money is an evidence of want of life in speculation, and the only hope to be had from it is that it makes so much the more certain the success of the bond sales, which in strengthening the Treasury will add to the slowly reviving confidence. When a man is drowning he will clutch at a straw. Taking hope of better times from what appears as yet is like clutching at a straw.

Jones, of Arkansas, is meditating an additional tax of one dollar a barrel on beer, but Voorhees warns him that a suffering country will not endure that. Jones said that it would only add one-fifth of a cent to the cost of a glass and thinks all good patriots should be willing to stand that.

WITHOUT THE

it is easy to steal or ring watches from the pocket. The thief gets the watch in one hand, the chain in the other and gives a short, quick jerk—the ring slips off the watch stem, and away goes the watch, leaving the victim only the chain.

This idea stopped that little game:

The bow has a groove on each end. A collar runs down inside the pendant (stem) and fits into the grooves, firmly locking the bow to the pendant, so that it cannot be pulled or twisted off.

Local Department.

—The next legal holiday is February 22, Washington's birthday.

—The Prohibitionists of College township have nominated a full local ticket.

—Mr. D. W. Miller has been appointed postmaster at Pine Grove Mills, vice J. G Heberling removed.

—Workmen are now engaged cleaning out the old Conrad building preparatory to repairing the same.

—The "able paragrapher" on the uptown daily was called upon to make another correction on Tuesday.

—Weather officials are predicting cold weather. Now don't be alarmed; they've been doing that ever since last July and we've had none yet.

—The State College students had a delightful time about ten o'clock Saturday night singing college songs in front of the Bush House, just prior to their departure for home.

—Up to this writing there have been twenty-three license applications filed in the prothonotary's office. The time for filing closes the first week in February and license court will be held the first Tuesday in March. It does not look now as if there would be as many applicants this year as there were last, when there were near fifty.

—A tenant house on the farm of M. D. Weaver, near Axe Mann, and occupied by William Dearmint and family, was burned to the ground Saturday night. The fire caught from a defective flue. Most of Dearmint's household goods were burned and it was just by a minute's time that two children were rescued from a terrible death.

—Some little excitement was created Monday evening about eight o'clock by a report that the lockup was on fire. An investigation, however, revealed the fact that a man who had been put in to cool off had, in his estimation, become to cool, and just to warm up a little had kindled a splint fire in one corner of his cell. The blaze was extinguished without calling out the fire department.

—About one of the busiest men we have in Centre county is Mr. John A. Way, of Halfmoon township. In addition to being a farmer, and one of the best in that township, he is Justice of the Peace, and as good an official as there is in the county, and in addition is a practical surveyor. He is equipped with the latest improved outfit and can do the work equal to any man in the state.

—W. Fisk Conrad, of Tyrone, seeing that his chances for getting the collectorship for Philadelphia are very slim, has relinquished all aspirations in that direction and has come out as a full-fledged candidate for the Tyrone postoffice. Fisk evidently believes in getting something and, if he can't get a good thing, he is willing to take something not so good, provided the administration will give it to him.

—We are informed by Mr. James Harris that the work of raising the five thousand dollars necessary to make a substantial offer to the Lamokin car works is progressing very satisfactorily, and the committee feel very much encouraged for the successful result of the undertaking, if our people continue to respond as willingly and freely as they thus far have. This is indeed good news, and we hope the good work will continue.

—Considerable counterfeit silver half and quarter dollars have been put in circulation in the last ten days, and everybody wants to keep their eyes open. The western part of the state has been flooded with it. The half dollars are said to be an excellent piece of work. The quarter counterfeit is more noticeable, but one must scrutinize it carefully in order to detect the difference. On the genuine piece the eagle holds a small ribbon in its mouth, while on the spurious coin the ribbon is just above the peak of the eagle.

—Turkeys must have been extraordinarily plentiful last fall, if one can judge from the number of turkey cases at court this week. All told there have been three, involving a total of fourteen turkeys, worth about $25, and which will cost the county a full-day's session of court, or about $250, or an average of $17.85 a turkey, and the county didn't even get a turkey, or thus far succeed in convicting anyone for stealing them. Such is the greatness of law—one can get abundance of satisfaction and little justice, all at the people's expense.

—The store and post office of John T. Akers at Duncansville was robbed last night. From the store an unknown quantity of goods were taken and from the postoffice the robbers secured about 8,000 postage stamps and $50 cash. The total loss is probably not less than $400. It is satisfactorily established that a party of tramps did the looting and two of this party are described as young men of medium height, one a slender fellow with cut under eye, both arms tatooed and cut over the back of his hands; the other of heavier build and wearing a brown overcoat. A lookout is being kept for the suspects.

WILL BELLEFONTE GET THEM.

What the Board of Trade Done to Get the Lamokin Car Works.

In accordance with the call published in the DAILY NEWS a large number of the representative citizens gathered in the arbitration room Monday evening. However, this room was soon found to be entirely too small and shortly before eight o'clock the meeting adjourned to the court room, as more equal to accomodate the crowd present and at that time still coming.

It was just 8.10 o'clock when President James Harris called the special meeting of the Board of Trade to order. As the minutes of the last regular meeting had been read and approved there was nothing of that kind to be done.

President Harris stated that the purpose for the call of this special meeting was to consider an offer from a large manufactory to locate here, and General Beaver was presented as the man to present the offer in all its details.

Gen. Beaver stated that the manufactory in question was the Lamokin car works of Chester, Pa., a manufactory of electric street cars. The industry has been established but four years, and in that time it has increased so largely as to outgrow their present location and they are compelled to seek a new location in order to have available space to enlarge their plant. The concern has as many as ten different offers from a half a dozen states, some of which are very munificent.

Mr. Cochran, the gentleman who was here, stated that if the present owners of the car works in this place would give them the property at a certain figure; would put up another frame building, 150x40 feet; would repair the floors in some of the buildings now there; rebuild the dam so that it would pour a sufficient volume of water over the water wheel, and grant them immunity from taxes for five years, he believed the proposition would be favorably considered by his people. General Beaver stated that to do all the above would probably cost about five or six thousand dollars. The General further stated that action must be taken at once, as the parties desire to move their plant so that they may be in their new location by the first of March. If they should come here they would bring to Bellefonte from 250 to 400 skilled mechanics a class of people who will make very desirable citizens. Mr. Beaver further stated that General Hastings was expected to be present during the evening but, owing to his not being in good health, and being obliged to go away early in the morning, he sent as his speech for the evening an offer to subscribe $500 of the amount needed to put the car works in good shape; provided the people of Bellefonte undertook to raise the money and make the offer as above.

Other brief addresses were made by James Harris, D. F. Fortney, Hammon Sechler and John Blanchard, Esq. Mr. Harris then read the subscription paper heading, and gave an apportunity for all who would do so to subscribe any amount they pelt themselves able to give.

Mr. Hunter moved that inasmuch as a great many of our business and moneyed men were not present, a committee of substantial citizens be appointed to go around this morning and solicit subscriptions from those not present. The motion was carried, and the President appointed as a committee Hammon Sechler, John P. Harris, William Shortlidge, W A Lyon, Al. S. Garman and F. W. Crider, two for each of the three wards in Bellefonte.

That our people may more fully understand how favorably impressed the owners of the Lamokin car works are with Bellefonte we will add that some of the offers they have received from other places include as high as twelve acres of ground, all the buildings, a ten thousand dollar bonus and immunity from taxes for ten years; and yet they are willing to consider a proposition as above to come to Bellefonte. Why? Because here we have the iron; the coal; the wood; pure water and plenty of it; a healthy location; superior educational advantages, and a good class of citizens generally, all of which have been considered and will bear heavily in Bellefonte's favor.

To show what the establishment is like we can add that, although it has only been in existence four years, because of the numerous patents they hold on motor trucks, it is now the principal factory in the United States and cannot begin, in their present location, to fill the orders received. They now have $134,000 invested in their plant at Chester, but it is their intention to incorporate a company with a capital stock of $250,000, just as soon as they make choice of a new location. Is not this an opportunity to take advantage of? Bellefonte ought to have no trouble to raise the money, and we don't believe it will. We believe that if it has not already been subscribed, it will be before the sun goes down this evening. But there must be no delay. General Beaver went to Philadelphia this morning and he will see the parties to-morrow (Wednesday) evening. What will he have to tell them? Let it be that Bellefonte makes them a proposition just as they outlined, and hopes for a favorable consideration.

FUNERAL OF MRS. GREGG.

CIVIL SERVICE.

For Clerks—Miss Carrie Atwood and Willis Woodring, of Bellefonte, and Thomas O. Lytle, of Loveville.

For Carriers—James Dolan and Samuel E. Hepburn, of Bellefonte, and John Rowland, of Benore.

The examinations will be held commencing Saturday, February 10th, at 11 o'clock, and will continue four and one half hours daily until completed. The examinations will likely be held in the rooms of the Bellefonte Wheelmen, over the Centre County Bank.

DIED IN SNOW SHOE.

Mrs. Fannie Hubbard, wife of Prof. G H Hubbard, died at her home in Snow Shoe, Centre county, Pa., on the 13th inst., after an illness of ten days. Mrs. Hubbard was a young woman, possessed of many excellent qualities; robust and attractive, her many friends feel deeply the loss of a loved one; but no one realizes the loss more keenly than the husband whose home is broken up and who in his active school duties was always cheered and comforted by a kind and loving wife. She was born near Jersey Shore, January 6 1867, and was therefore 27 years of age. She was buried in the cemetery at Jersey Shore on the 16th inst. The services were conducted by the Rev. J. M. Johnson, at the home of her father G J Denniston.

MARRIED.

JOHNSON—MOORE.—On Thursday, January 18th, 1894, at Mill Hall, by Rev. S. W. Pomeroy, Mr. Ira C. Johnson, of Jacksonville, Centre county, and Miss Sadie E. Moore, of Flemington, Clinton county.

In the above notice, which appeared in the Lock Haven papers, we recognize as one of the contracting parties one of the best known men in Marion township. Mr. Johnston has lived at Jacksonville most all his life; he is a carriagemaker by trade and has one of the finest equipped coach shops in the county. Having waited a good while to find the right lady we now venture the assertion that in the wife he has chosen Mr. Johnson will find a congenial life partner. Congratulations.

A CURIOSITY OF THE LAW.

Additions to rented premises, when made by the tenant, should never be fastened with nails, but with screws. The reason for this lies in the fact that should he wish to move away and take with him the boards and other lumber composing the improvements he has made he can simply draw out the screws and take the planks. If he fastens them with nails, however, he can remove nothing, and the improvements become the landlord's property. The fact results from a legal quibble, insisting that articles fastened with screws are for temporary use and if put in place by the tenant are his own property.—St. Louis lawyer in the Globe Democrat.

EIGHTY CONVERSIONS.

For eight long weeks now Rev. G. P. Sarvis has been conducting a protracted meeting in the Methodist church at Julian and the oldest church member in that place cannot remember the time when there was such a revival or so many conversions as there has been at this meeting. Altogether there have been over eighty persons, old and young, who have professed religion, and last night there were still sixteen at the altar praying for God's blessing. There have been sixty five accessions to the church and the good work is still going on with unabated zeal and fervor.

Miss Dora Kephart, of Fillmore, is a guest of Mr. J. D. Lucas, in Tyrone.

SHOCKING CRUELTY.

A Child Beaten, Bound Under a Bed and Almost Starved.

Centre county has been the seat of almost all the crimes in the category, but the development of the Harman child-beating case outrivals all past records for inhumanity, brutal treatment and downright devlishness. That a man or woman could possibly display such unheard of cruelty to an inoffensive and unprotected child surpasses all understanding, and the only wonder is that those who have witnessed the continued ill-treatment hesitated so long in making information.

Milton Harman, a blacksmith, lived with his wife and four children, and his stepson, a lad aged about 10 years, just east of Axe Mann. For a year past or longer, people living in that locality noticed the cruel treatment the stepson was receiving from the entire Harman family, but no one had the courage and fortitude to take any action to stop the cruelty until last week. Then, because of the disappearance of the child, and the neighbors thinking that all was not right, Mr. Watson Struble, a farmer living nearby, came to Bellefonte and, before the proper authorities, made information and complaint. A search warrant was issued by District Attorney Singer and on Friday a constable was sent to search for the boy. The search proved fruitless however, as no boy was found, the parents averring that he had been sent away to some relatives. The authorities, however, were not satisfied, and on Saturday the constable again went to the house and made a search and this time success crowned his efforts. The lad was found in a locked room, with his hands tied behind his back in a cruelly painful position, and almost dead from torture, neglect and lack of food. The child was taken in charge and the whole family placed under arrest and brought to Bellefonte. They were taken before Justice of the Peace John B. Linn and giving a hearing, although this seemed but a mere form when one got a glimpse of the child.

His limbs, ears, lips and fingers had pieces of flesh torn out, and his emaciated body was almost completely covered with bruises, abrasions and half-healed wounds. One leg was found to be broken, the fracture having been made more than a year ago, and never having been reduced. This was all the evidence required to place the entire family under arrest, send them to jail, and there they now are awaiting their trial which will be given this week.

Just why Harman and his family displayed such hatred towards the boy is hard to tell and may never be known. And why Mrs. Harman would tolerate such inhuman treatment of her own offspring is still harder to conjecture. It is difficult to believe that there lives a woman in this world who is so devoid of the natural filial affection as to allow her own child to be so ill-treated, and especially when the child displayed the meek and obedient spirit and the youthful affection that is accredited to this one by all who know him. The little boy is now in tender hands at the poor house in this place, and it is to be hoped that with the proper care and attention he will recover from what must have been worse than death for him. As stated above, the Harman's are in jail and there they are likely to remain until tried by a jury and that jury cannot do otherwise but find them guilty and the Court will only be doing justice to humanity to meet out to them the full penalty of the law prescribed for such an enormous offense.

SIMPLE REMEDIES.

One pint of buttermilk in which a well beaten egg is stirred will break up any fever in half an hour, if not of too long standing.

A poultice made of Indian meal covered with Young Hyson tea, moistened with hot water and laid on a burn will relieve the pain in five minutes.

There is nothing like hot water and the rubber bandage for a sprain. The hot water soothes the lacerated ligaments; the bandage prevents swelling. Liniments are worse than useless.

For a bad cough a tablespoonful of flaxseed ten or fifteen minutes in a pint of water. Strain, add the juice of a lemon, sweeten to taste and drink a few spoonfuls at a time every few minutes.

INTERIOR OF THE EARTH.

A theory has been put forth by M. Rateau in the French Academy of Science that the crust of the earth beneath the continents does not touch the fluid globe, but is separated from it by a space filled with gaseous matter under pressure. The continents would, therefore, constitute a sort of blister, much flattened, inflated and sustained by gasses, while the bottom of the oceans is supposed to rest directly on the fiery mass. By this hypothesis the author believes that many phenomena of the terrestrial crust may be explained which are not clearly accounted for under the present theory.
